Regular maintenance will extend the life of your Garvee Catio and ensure a safe environment for your pets.

  - Frame and Mesh: Clean the galvanized steel frame and plastic-coated mesh with mild soap and water. Rinse thoroughly and allow to air dry. Avoid harsh chemicals that could damage the coating.

- Structural Integrity Check: Periodically inspect all bolts, screws, and connections for tightness. Re-tighten as necessary.
- Mesh Inspection: Check the mesh for any signs of damage, rust, or sharp edges that could harm pets. Repair or replace damaged sections promptly.

7. Troubleshooting

This section addresses common issues you might encounter with your Garvee Catio.

- Issue: Catio feels unstable after assembly.

  Solution: Ensure all bolts and connections are fully tightened. Verify that the catio is placed on a level surface. Consider using additional ground anchors for increased stability, especially in windy conditions.

- Issue: Water pooling on the roof cover.

  Solution: Check that the roof cover is taut and properly secured to the frame, allowing water to run off. Adjust the tension if necessary. Ensure the roof frame is correctly assembled to maintain its pitched shape.

- Issue: Pets are attempting to escape.

  Solution: Inspect the entire enclosure for any small gaps or loose mesh panels. Ensure the door's locking mechanism is fully engaged. If using the window attachment, verify it is securely sealed.

- Issue: Rust appearing on metal parts.

  Solution: While the frame is galvanized, prolonged exposure to moisture or damage to the coating can lead to rust. Clean any rust spots with a wire brush, then apply a rust-inhibiting primer and paint suitable for outdoor metal. Ensure the plastic coating on the mesh is intact.
