Introduction

This symbol identifies that the materials provided are safe for food contact and comply with European Regulation (EC) No 1935/2004.

- Suitable for use with all heating sources, including induction hobs.
- Oven safe to 150°C .
- Before use, remove all packaging and wash the pan in hot soapy water.
- Use low to medium heat, extremely high temperatures can cause handle and coating damaged.
- Always use the appropriate pan on a corresponding size burner.
- If you are using a gas stove, adjust the height of the flame to avoid overheating the side walls of the pan.
- Do not allow the handles of your cookware to extend over a hot burner.
- Always use an oven glove when removing the cookware from the oven, as the handles will become hot.
- Never allow a hot pan to boil dry. Leaving a pan on a continuous heat while it is empty could cause serious injury.
- Never leave cookware unattended while cooking. Always lift the pan off the hob and avoid dragging across the surface.
- Avoid use metal utensils as these can damage the non-stick coating.
- Do not plunge hot cookware into cold water or place cold cookware onto a heated hob as thermal shock may damage the base.
- To remove stubborn grease, soak the pans in hot soapy water.
- Do not use steel wool, coarse scouring pads or harsh abrasives to clean the cookware.
- Dishwasher safe, however hand washing is recommended to prolong the life of the pan.
