U.S. Marines Close-Quarters Combat Manual

Official Instruction Manual

INTRODUCTION TO THE LINE SYSTEM

This official U.S. Marines instruction manual provides comprehensive guidance on the LINE (linear in-fighting neural-override engagement) system. The LINE system is recognized as an exceptionally efficient and complete method of military close combat. It is designed to provide effective techniques for various combat scenarios.

CORE PRINCIPLES OF LINE COMBAT

The manual details all aspects of this combat system, focusing on practical application and effectiveness in close-quarters situations. Key areas of instruction include:

Unarmed Combat Methods

Detailed instructions are provided for engaging an opponent without the use of weapons. These methods emphasize direct and decisive actions to neutralize threats effectively.

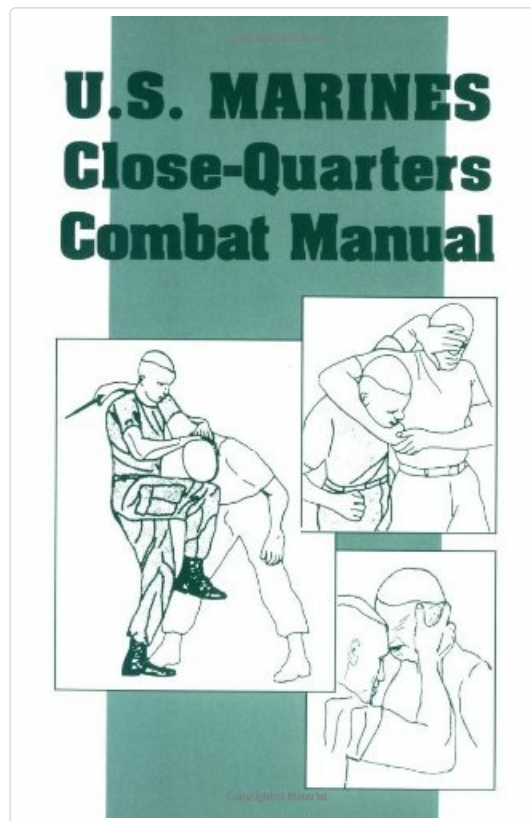

Knife and Bayonet Fighting

The manual covers techniques for both offensive and defensive use of knives and bayonets. This section includes proper grip, stance, attack, and defense strategies for bladed weapons in close proximity.

Use of Improvised Weapons

Guidance is offered on how to effectively utilize everyday objects as weapons when standard armaments are unavailable. This includes identifying suitable items and applying combat principles to their use.
