Engaging with Lessons

Each lesson within the workbook is designed to be interactive and build upon previous concepts. Students should read instructions carefully and utilize the provided examples to guide their practice. Encourage independent thought and creativity in responses.

Lesson 7 Active Voice

Compare these two paragraphs. The one on the left uses mostly passive verbs. The one on the right uses active verbs. What do you notice?

A grand opening was held last night by the art museum. A new exhibit was unveiled by the museum director. The collection of international textiles was assembled by Vince DiSilva. The textiles have been displayed previously by DiSilva in London and Los Angeles. The collection has been hailed by critics as the largest and most diverse of its kind.

DiSilva has displayed the textiles previously in London and Los Angeles. Critics have hailed the collection as the largest and most diverse of its kind.

Underline the subject of each sentence below. Put an X next to each sentence that contains a passive verb.

- _____ Steve viewed the exhibit.
- _____ The exhibit was lit with special lights.
- _____ Elijah was looking at one display.
- _____ Visitors were entertained by a pianist.

Practice writing sentences with active verbs. First, look at the sentences above that have passive verbs. Rewrite one of those sentences with an active verb.

Now, write a new sentence about something that visitors might do at a museum. Make sure you use an active verb.
