EXCERPT: CHAPTER 1 - THE FIRST DRAGON

Below is an excerpt from the first chapter of "The Rise of Neptune," offering a glimpse into the narrative and writing style.

"There is nothing brighter than a dragon in an empty sky. We all look up as Luna begins her descent. It's like watching history walk right out of the pages of a textbook. For all of humanity, she is the first dragon. The beginning of everything. Our exploration of space. An invitation to other moons and planets. She is the reason my ancestors were able to travel to Mars—and the reason we continue to reach beyond. Luna is also where I got my name. On the day I was born, my mother saw those same wings, like pearl-white slashes in the night sky. She thought the dragon looked so beautiful that she named me after her—Lunar Jones."

"...As predicted, Neptune's ships arrive in Martian space—and they're not interested in talking. The ships launch an immediate attack. Lunar was prepared for hostilities, but the way the attack happens is unexpected. Neptune's dragons seem divided, and its ships, while countless in number, are almost too easy to defeat. It's clear there's more to Neptune's story than meets the eye, and Lunar and his Dread Knights must figure out the mystery behind their looming foe quickly...before those secrets doom Mars for good."

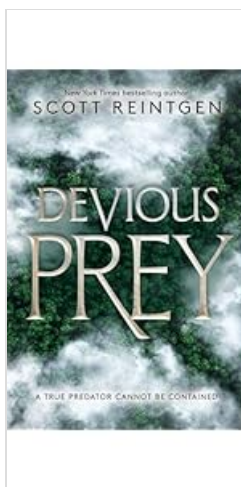

This excerpt provides an initial encounter with the world and characters, setting the stage for the unfolding conflict.
