Baby Einstein Language Nursery DVD

Baby Einstein Language Nursery DVD Instruction Manual

INTRODUCTION

The Baby Einstein Language Nursery DVD is designed to introduce young children, specifically those aged 1 to 18 months, to the fundamental elements of human expression, including language, poetry, music, science, and art. This program aims to provide visual and multilingual experiences to stimulate and engage your baby's developing mind.

This DVD incorporates three core features: interactivity, multimedia programming capabilities, and high-quality digital playback. It leverages the principles of cognitive and language development research to create meaningful learning opportunities for infants and parents to share.

Your baby's potential is immense. At Baby Einstein, we're committed to exposing young children to the greatest forms of human expression — language, poetry, music, science and art — in a way that they love.

DVD offers three exceptional features: interactivity, multimedia programming capabilities and stunning digital playback quality. The Baby Einstein Digital Board Book™ takes advantage of all three. Now showing in the Theatre is Baby Einstein®, the award-winning, whimsical video that introduces toddlers to foreign languages. Or step into the Concert Hall and treat your child to recitals of nursery rhymes in different languages and baby-friendly performances of classical music pieces. Waiting in the Language Lab is a DVD version of the patent-pending Language Discovery Cards where you can choose to expose your child to eight languages through the use of pictures, text and pronunciations by native speakers. Separate study tracks are designed to develop vocabulary and reading skills. Unique in every way, this DVD offers countless hours of viewing and listening delight, coupled with meaningful learning.

"Building on cognitive and language development research, this video creates engaging learning opportunities for infants and parents to share. Sesame Street for babies!"
