2. SETUP

---

The Paladone Pac-Man Plush is ready for use directly out of its packaging. It comes with pre-installed batteries to power the sound chip. No assembly or additional battery installation is required by the user.

To begin using the product, simply remove it from its packaging.

3. OPERATING INSTRUCTIONS

To activate the sound feature of your Pac-Man plush, gently squeeze the body of the toy. The embedded sound chip will play one of the classic sound clips from the Pac-Man game.

Repeated squeezing will trigger the sound again.

4. MAINTENANCE

4.1 Cleaning

To clean the plush toy, use a soft, damp cloth with mild soap. Gently wipe the surface of the plush. Do not immerse the toy in water, as this may damage the internal sound chip and battery components. Allow the toy to air dry completely before further use.

4.2 Battery Information

The sound chip in this plush toy is powered by non-replaceable, product-specific batteries. These batteries are sealed within the toy and are not intended for user access or replacement. The lifespan of the batteries will vary depending on usage.

When the sound feature ceases to function, it indicates that the batteries have been depleted. Due to the sealed design, battery replacement is not possible.

5. TROUBLESHOOTING

5.1 Sound Not Working

- Ensure proper activation: Make sure you are squeezing the plush firmly enough to activate the internal sound mechanism.
- Check battery life: If the sound has stopped working after a period of use, the pre-installed batteries may be depleted. As the batteries are non-replaceable, the sound feature will no longer function once depleted.
- Inspect for damage: Visually inspect the plush for any signs of external damage that might affect internal components.

If the sound feature does not work upon initial purchase, and the above steps do not resolve the issue, please contact the retailer for assistance.
