3. OPERATION AND FUNCTION

Once installed, the Holmes True HEPA Filter works in conjunction with your air purifier to draw in ambient air. The air passes through the pleated HEPA media, which traps microscopic particles. Cleaned air is then circulated back into the room. The filter's enhanced mold-fighting power helps to capture mold spores, contributing to a healthier indoor environment.

4. MAINTENANCE AND CARE

4.1 Filter Replacement Schedule

For optimal performance and air quality, it is recommended to change the Holmes True HEPA Filter every 8 to 12 months. Actual replacement frequency may vary depending on air quality, usage duration, and the presence of pets or smokers in the environment.

4.2 Cleaning

True HEPA filters are not designed to be washed or cleaned. Attempting to wash or vacuum the filter can damage the delicate filter media and reduce its effectiveness. Always replace the filter with a new one when it reaches the end of its service life.

5. TROUBLESHOOTING

5.1 Common Issues

- Filter Indicator Light Remains On After Replacement: Ensure you have correctly reset the filter indicator on your air purifier. Refer to your air purifier's manual for specific instructions on how to reset the filter light.
- Reduced Airflow or Odor: If you notice reduced airflow or persistent odors shortly after replacement, verify that the new filters are installed correctly and that the filter compartment is securely closed. If the issue persists, the air purifier itself may require servicing.
