Model: 52365

Introduction

The Lemax Village Collection Chatting Together figurine, model 52365, is a decorative accessory designed to enhance your miniature village displays. This piece features a man and a woman seated together, dressed in brightly colored winter attire, making them a suitable addition to various seasonal or everyday village scenes. Their seated posture allows for versatile placement on benches, ledges, or other elevated surfaces within your display.

This image displays the Lemax Village Collection Chatting Together figurine, featuring a man and a woman seated side-by-side. The woman wears a red top and green hat, while the man wears a blue jacket and green scarf. Both are dressed in winter clothing, suitable for a seasonal village display.

Setup

1. Unpacking: Carefully remove the figurine from its packaging. Inspect the item for any signs of damage that may have occurred during transit.
2. Placement: Position the figurine in your desired location within your village display. Due to its seated design, it is ideal for placement on miniature benches, steps, or ledges. Ensure the surface is stable to prevent accidental falls.
3. Integration: Arrange other village elements around the figurine to create a cohesive scene. The 'Chatting Together' theme suggests placement in social settings such as parks, town squares, or outdoor cafes.

Placement and Display

The Lemax Chatting Together figurine is designed for indoor use and is a static display piece. Its primary function is to add character and life to your miniature village. Consider placing it:

- On a miniature park bench, creating a scene of leisure.
- At the edge of a fountain or pond, observing the surroundings.
- On a low wall or step, as if taking a break from an activity.

Ensure the figurine is placed on a flat, stable surface to maintain balance and prevent tipping.

Maintenance

To ensure the longevity and appearance of your Lemax figurine, follow these simple maintenance guidelines:

- Cleaning: Dust the figurine regularly with a soft, dry cloth. For more thorough cleaning, gently wipe the surface with a slightly damp cloth. Avoid using harsh chemicals, abrasive cleaners, or excessive water, as these can damage the paint or resin finish.
- Storage: When not on display, store the figurine in its original packaging or a protective container in a cool, dry place away from direct sunlight and extreme temperatures. This helps prevent fading and material degradation.
- Handling: Handle the figurine with care, especially delicate parts. Avoid dropping or subjecting it to impacts.

Troubleshooting

As a static decorative item, troubleshooting for this figurine is minimal. Most issues relate to physical damage.

- Minor Damage (e.g., small chip): For minor paint chips, touch-up paint matching the original colors may be used. For small breaks, a strong adhesive suitable for resin can be applied carefully.
- Figurine Does Not Sit Stably: Ensure the surface it is placed on is completely flat and level. If the figurine itself has an uneven base, a small amount of modeling clay or a similar material can be used discreetly under the base to provide stability.
