2. SAFETY GUIDELINES

Always prioritize your baby's safety when using the carrier wrap. Follow these essential guidelines:

- Snug, Comfortable Fit: Ensure the wrap is snug against your body and your baby is close to you, not leaning away. Both you and your baby should feel comfortable.
- Close Enough to Kiss: Your baby's head should be close enough for you to easily kiss their forehead.
- Open Airway & Visible Face: Always ensure your baby's face is visible and their airway is clear. There should be no fabric covering their nose or mouth.
- Back in "C" Shape: Check that your baby's back maintains a natural "C" curve, not a straight or rigid posture.
- "M-shape" Leg Position: Ensure your baby's hips are spread, with knees higher than their bottom, forming an "M" shape. This supports healthy hip development.
- Head Supported: For newborns and sleeping babies, ensure their head is adequately supported by the fabric.
- Double Knot: Always secure the wrap with a double knot to prevent loosening.

3. SETUP & TYING INSTRUCTIONS

Follow these steps to correctly tie your Ergobaby Aura Wrap:

1. Find the Center: Locate the Ergobaby logo tag at the center of the wrap.
2. Position on Waist: Place the center of the wrap at your natural waist, ensuring the logo is centered.
3. Criss-Cross Back: Bring both ends of the wrap around your back, criss-crossing them over your shoulders. Ensure the fabric is spread wide over your shoulders for comfort.
4. Bring to Front: Bring the two ends back to the front, crossing them over your chest.
5. Tuck Under Waistband: Tuck both ends under the horizontal section of the wrap at your waist.
6. Cross Again & Tie: Cross the ends again, bringing them around your back and tying a double knot securely. You can tie the knot at your back, side, or front, wherever is most comfortable. Ensure the wrap feels snug, tighter than you might initially think, as it will slightly loosen with your baby's weight.

4. PLACING YOUR BABY IN THE WRAP

Once the wrap is securely tied, follow these steps to place your baby:

1. Create a Pocket: Gently pull down the horizontal section of the wrap at your waist to create a pocket for your baby.
2. Insert Legs: Carefully insert one of your baby's legs through one of the criss-crossed shoulder straps, then the other leg through the other strap. Ensure the fabric spreads from knee to knee, supporting their hips in an "M" shape.
3. Spread Fabric Over Back: Pull the fabric of each shoulder strap up over your baby's back, ensuring it covers them from knee to knee and provides full support.
4. Pull Up Waistband: Finally, pull the horizontal section of the wrap (the pocket you created) up over your baby's back and neck for additional support.
5. Final Adjustments: Adjust the fabric to ensure your baby is snug, their face is visible, and their airway is clear. Their back should be in a gentle "C" curve.
