SETUP

1. Player Markers and Cards: Each player selects one colored wooden game marker. Each player then receives a personal set of dinosaur cards: 1 purple T-rex, 2 red Spinosaurus, 2 blue Dilophosaurus, and 4 yellow Velociraptors. These are your hunting cards.
2. The Jungle: Take all 16 green Archaeopteryx cards and spread them out face-up on the playing surface. Ensure there is space between them and no cards are touching or overlapping. These cards represent the "jungle" where the hunt takes place.
3. Starting Player and Game Box: The player who can make the most convincing T-rex roar begins the game. This player places the game box top upright in front of them, with one of its short sides facing the "jungle" playing area.

HOW TO PLAY

Taking a Turn

1. Select a Card: Choose any one of your available dinosaur cards from your personal set.
2. Position for Flicking: Place the selected card on top of the upright game box.
3. Flick: Using your finger, flick the card off the game box towards the "jungle" of Archaeopteryx cards. The goal is to land your card on other dinosaurs.

Collecting Dinosaurs

- If your flicked card lands on one or more other dinosaur cards, you may collect all cards underneath it that are smaller than your flicked card.

- Each dinosaur card has symbols indicating which smaller dinosaurs it can collect. For example, a T-rex (purple) can collect Spinosaurus (red), Dilophosaurus (blue), Velociraptors (yellow), and Archaeopteryx (green).
- The card you flicked always remains in the "jungle" and becomes available for other players to potentially collect on their turns.
- If your flicked card lands on nothing, or only on cards larger than itself, you do not collect any cards. Your flicked card still remains in the "jungle."
- If your flicked card goes completely outside the designated playing area, it is removed from the game.

End of Turn

- After collecting any eligible dinosaurs, place them face-down under your colored game marker. These are your points.
- Pass the game box to the player on your left. The next player can set up the game box in any position they choose, as long as there is at least a hand's width distance from the closest dinosaur card in the "jungle."
- Once a card is collected and placed under your game marker, it cannot be used for flicking again. Only the starting set of cards can be used for flicking.

GAME END AND SCORING

- The game concludes when all players have used all their personal dinosaur cards for flicking.
- Each player then counts the total number of dinosaur cards they have collected under their game marker.
- Each collected dinosaur card is worth one point.
- The player with the highest total score (most collected cards) is the winner.
