TROUBLESHOOTING

If you encounter issues with your Skullcandy Riff Wireless headphones, try the following solutions:

Pairing Issues

If your headphones are not appearing in your device's Bluetooth list or are having trouble connecting:

- Clear Paired Device List: While the headphones are charging, press and hold the main function button. The LED will blink blue and red. Upon powering on, the headphones will directly enter pairing state, allowing you to re-pair with your desired device.
- Restart Devices: Turn off Bluetooth on your phone/device, power off the headphones, then restart both and attempt to pair again.
- Charge Fully: Ensure the headphones are fully charged before attempting to pair, as low battery can sometimes affect connectivity.

Sound Quality Issues

- Check Volume: Ensure both the headphone volume and your device's volume are turned up.
- Proximity: Maintain a close distance between your headphones and the connected device (within 10 meters) to avoid signal interference.
