5. TROUBLESHOOTING

Addressing common concerns related to fabric softener use.

- Yellowish Splotches on Fabric: If yellowish splotches appear on bright white towels or other fabrics after using the softener, it may indicate that the softener is not mixing well with water or is being absorbed directly by the fabric before dilution.

- Ensure the softener dispenser is clean and free of residue.
 - Verify that the softener is dispensed at the correct cycle point, allowing for proper dilution.
 - Rewashing the affected items typically removes these splotches.
- Lack of Scent Retention: If the scent does not last after drying, ensure the recommended dosage is used. Factors like dryer heat settings and fabric type can influence scent retention.
