CARE AND MAINTENANCE

Regular use of Caffenu cleaning pods is a crucial part of your coffee machine's maintenance routine. By preventing the build-up of coffee oils and residues, you contribute to the longevity of your machine and ensure every cup tastes fresh.

Cleaning vs. Descaling:

It is important to understand the difference between cleaning and descaling. Cleaning pods target coffee oils and residues in the brewing chamber, while descaling addresses mineral build-up (limescale) in the machine's internal heating elements and pipes. For comprehensive machine care, both cleaning and descaling are recommended.
