OPERATING INSTRUCTIONS: MAKING YOUR JEWELRY

This section guides you through the process of creating your unicorn clay jewelry. Refer to the detailed instruction booklet included in your kit for additional visual aids and specific design ideas.

Step 1: Prepare the Clay

- Select the desired colors of polymer clay.
- Knead the clay until it becomes soft and pliable. This makes it easier to shape.
- For marbled effects, gently twist and roll two or more colors together without fully blending.

Step 2: Shape the Clay Beads and Pendants

- Roll small pieces of clay into spherical beads of various sizes.
- Use the provided shaping tools to create unique designs or flatten clay for pendants.
- If making pendants, press the clay into the pendant bases provided. Use the rolling pin to smooth the surface.
- Carefully create a hole through the center of each bead using a needle or a thin tool, ensuring the hole is large enough for your string. For pendants, ensure the loop is clear.

Step 3: Bake the Clay Creations

Important: Adult supervision is required for this step.

1. Place your shaped clay beads and pendants on a baking sheet lined with parchment paper or aluminum foil.
2. Preheat your oven to 275°F (135°C).
3. Bake the clay for approximately 15-30 minutes, depending on the thickness of your creations. Thicker pieces may require longer baking times.
4. Note: While the kit includes detailed instructions, specific baking temperatures and times for the included clay may vary. Always refer to any specific instructions provided with the clay itself or perform a test bake with a small, inconspicuous piece to determine optimal settings. Avoid over-baking, as this can cause discoloration or burning.
5. Once baked, carefully remove the baking sheet from the oven and allow the clay pieces to cool completely before handling. They will harden as they cool.

The Making Process is simple!!

Step 1: Roll clay into small beads
Step 2: Bake the clay beads
Step 3: Assemble to make your own unicorn bracelets

Step 4: Assemble Your Jewelry

- Once the clay beads are cool and hard, begin stringing them onto the elastic cord for bracelets or necklace cords.
- Intersperse your handmade clay beads with the assorted decorative beads and charms provided in the kit.
- For bracelets, measure the cord around your wrist, leaving extra length for tying. Tie a secure double knot and trim any excess cord.
- For necklaces, attach your chosen pendant to a necklace cord and adjust the length as desired.

MAINTENANCE

- Cleaning: To clean finished clay jewelry, gently wipe with a soft, damp cloth. Avoid harsh chemicals or abrasive cleaners.
- Storage: Store unused clay in an airtight container to prevent it from drying out. Keep finished jewelry in a dry place, away from direct sunlight, to preserve colors and materials.
- Handling: While baked polymer clay is durable, avoid excessive bending or dropping to prevent breakage.

TROUBLESHOOTING

Problem	Solution
Clay is too hard to knead.	Knead the clay for a longer period, or warm it slightly in your hands or a warm room.
Clay beads crack after baking.	This can happen if the clay was not thoroughly conditioned (kneaded) before shaping, or if it was under-baked. Ensure proper kneading and sufficient baking time.
Clay discolours or burns during baking.	The oven temperature may be too high, or the clay was baked for too long. Verify oven temperature with a thermometer and reduce baking time if necessary. Always use the recommended temperature for polymer clay.
Holes in beads are too small for string.	Use a small drill bit (hand-powered) or a reamer to carefully enlarge the holes after baking. Be gentle to avoid cracking.
