6. TROUBLESHOOTING

The Bticino KG41 is a passive cover. Most issues will relate to its physical appearance or installation. If you encounter problems, consider the following:

- Cover Not Flat: If the cover does not sit perfectly flat after installation, gently re-press it onto the K4574CWI module, ensuring even pressure. Verify that no obstructions are preventing proper seating.
- Surface Scratches/Damage: The cover is designed to be replaceable. If the surface is scratched or damaged, a new cover can be purchased and installed. This avoids the need to replace the entire control unit.
- Control Not Responding: If the underlying K4574CWI wireless scenario control is not responding to touch, the issue is likely with the control unit itself, not the cover. Refer to the K4574CWI instruction manual for troubleshooting steps or contact Bticino customer support.
