TROUBLESHOOTING

Here are some common issues and tips for your Yaheetech Cat Litter Box Enclosure:

- Odor Buildup: If you notice odor, ensure the back ventilation holes are not blocked. Regular cleaning of the litter box and the enclosure interior is crucial. Some users report an initial chemical odor upon unboxing, which typically dissipates over time.
- Litter Tracking: While the enclosure helps reduce tracking, it may not eliminate it entirely. Consider placing a litter mat inside the enclosure, especially near the entrance, to further minimize tracking.
- Door Alignment: In rare cases, doors might not align perfectly. This is often a minor aesthetic issue in mass-produced items and typically does not affect functionality. Ensure all screws are tightened correctly during assembly.
- Cat Hesitation to Use: Most cats adapt quickly. If your cat is hesitant, try placing a familiar item inside or leaving the door open initially. Ensure the litter box inside is clean and comfortable for them.
