MAINTENANCE

- Cleaning: To clean the lamp, switch it off and wipe it with a slightly damp sponge or dry towel. Do not use excessive water.

- Moisture Management: Himalayan salt lamps are hygroscopic, meaning they absorb moisture from the air. If the lamp feels damp or appears to be "sweating," turn it on for several hours to allow the heat from the bulb to dry the salt.
- Placement: Always keep the lamp on a placemat or coaster to prevent moisture from damaging furniture.
- Storage: If not using the lamp for an extended period, disconnect the power cable and store it in a dry, airtight bag to prevent moisture absorption.
- Handling: The salt rock is fragile; handle with care to avoid breakage.

TROUBLESHOOTING

- Lamp Not Lighting Up:
 - Ensure the USB cable is securely connected to both the lamp and the power source.

 - Check if the remote control battery needs replacement.

- Remote Control Not Responding:

- Ensure there are no obstructions between the remote and the lamp.
- Replace the remote control battery if the issue persists.
- Try operating the remote closer to the lamp.

- Lamp is "Sweating" or Damp:

- This is normal for salt lamps in humid environments. Turn the lamp on for several hours to allow the heat from the bulb to dry the salt.
