The pull-up pants are designed with a full-rise waist for a better fit and are equipped with tearable side seams for quick and easy removal. The integrated wetness indicator changes color when in contact with fluid, signaling the need for a change. An easy dispose sticker is included for hygienic disposal after use.

Usage Directions

1. Assess Waist Size: Ensure you have the correct waist size for the person wearing the pull-up pants. Refer to the sizing guide image above. If you are in between sizes, it is recommended to size down for a snug fit to prevent leakage.
2. Application: Pull up the pants like regular underwear. The elastic waistband ensures a comfortable and secure fit.
3. Monitoring: The wetness indicator will fade when the product is wet, indicating it's time for a change.
4. Disposal: To dispose, tear the side seams, roll the used pull-up pant, and use the easy dispose sticker to secure it before placing it in a waste bin. Dispose hygienically after use.

These pull-up pants are suitable for moderate to heavy urinary incontinence, fecal incontinence, post-prostate bleeding, and heavy menstrual bleeding.

Maintenance and Care

For optimal performance and hygiene, it is important to change the pull-up pants regularly when wetness occurs. Although these incontinence protectors can absorb a large amount of bodily fluids, regular changes help keep the skin dry and prevent irritation. Do not attempt to wash or reuse the pull-up pants; they are designed for single use only.

Troubleshooting

If you encounter any issues with leakage, sizing, or bulkiness, please ensure the correct size has been selected based on the user's actual waist measurements. Discrepancies in sizing compared to other brands may occur, so always refer to the Comfy Life sizing guide.
