1. Unfold the Side Panel: Carefully unfold the 210D Oxford Cloth side panel.
2. Identify Attachment Points: Locate the attachment loops, hooks, or straps on the edges of the side panel. These are designed to connect to the vertical poles or crossbars of your canopy frame.

 - Begin by attaching the top corners of the side panel to the upper frame of your canopy.
 - Work your way down, securing all attachment points along the vertical poles. Ensure the panel is taut but not overly stretched.

Once installed, the side panel provides shade and protection. Its operation primarily involves managing its position and ensuring proper ventilation.

- Adjusting for Shade: Position the side panel on the side of your canopy that receives the most direct sunlight for optimal shade.
- Ventilation: If multiple side panels are used, consider leaving one side partially open or unzipped (if applicable) to allow for air circulation and prevent excessive heat buildup.
- Weather Protection: The 210D Oxford Cloth is waterproof and UV resistant, offering protection from light rain and harmful UV rays. However, it is not designed for extreme weather conditions.

 - Rinse thoroughly with clean water and allow to air dry completely before storage.
- Drying: Always ensure the side panel is completely dry before folding and storing to prevent mildew and mold growth.
- Inspection: Periodically check for any signs of wear, tear, or damage to the fabric or attachment points. Address minor issues promptly to prevent further damage.
