4. Close the cover firmly. Double-click the power button to calibrate the label paper. The printer will feed a small amount of paper and then stop.

MAINTENANCE

Cleaning the Print Head

Since the Nelko P21 uses thermal printing, it does not require ink cartridges. However, regular cleaning of the print head can help maintain print quality.

- Ensure the printer is turned off and disconnected from power.
- Open the label compartment.
- Gently wipe the print head (the black strip inside the compartment) with a cotton swab lightly dampened with isopropyl alcohol.
- Allow the print head to dry completely before closing the cover and using the printer.

Storage

Store the label maker in a cool, dry place away from direct sunlight and extreme temperatures. Keep label rolls sealed in their original packaging until ready for use to prevent degradation of the thermal paper.
