MAINTENANCE

Care for Finished Embroidery:

- Cleaning: If necessary, gently hand wash the finished embroidery in cool water with a mild, pH-neutral soap. Avoid harsh scrubbing or twisting. Rinse thoroughly.
- Drying: Lay the embroidery flat on a clean towel, roll the towel to absorb excess water, then unroll and air dry flat. Avoid direct sunlight.
- Ironing: If needed, iron the embroidery face down on a soft towel using a low heat setting, preferably with a pressing cloth.
- Display: Once dry, your finished piece can be framed, sewn onto another item, or displayed as desired.

Tool Care:

- Needles: Store needles in a dry place to prevent rust. Replace bent or dull needles for optimal stitching.
- Clippers: Keep clippers clean and dry. If they become dull, they may need sharpening or replacement.

TROUBLESHOOTING

Problem	Possible Cause	Solution
Threads Tangle Easily	Thread is too long; incorrect number of strands; thread quality.	Use shorter lengths of thread (approx. 18 inches). Ensure you are using the correct number of strands as per the pattern.

Problem	Possible Cause	Solution
Stitches Look Uneven	Inconsistent tension; incorrect stitch technique.	Practice maintaining even tension. Refer to the stitch guide for proper technique. Ensure fabric is taut in a hoop if using one.
Needle is Difficult to Pull Through Fabric	Dull needle; too many threads in needle; fabric too thick.	Replace with a sharp needle. Reduce the number of thread strands if possible. Ensure you are using the correct type of needle for embroidery.
Design Does Not Match Pattern	Misinterpretation of pattern; incorrect color choice.	Double-check the color chart and real-size images. Compare your work frequently with the pattern.
