TROUBLESHOOTING

Problem	Possible Cause	Solution
Bolster mat appears wrinkled or flat.	Mat is vacuum-sealed for shipping.	Allow several hours for the mat to fully expand and regain its shape after unpacking. Gentle fluffing may help.
Bed feels unstable or wobbly.	Frame components not fully connected or legs not securely attached.	Ensure all snap-on connections for the frame and legs are fully engaged and secure. Check that the bed is on a level surface.
Bolster mat slides on the mesh.	Mat not properly secured to the frame.	Verify that all integrated straps or fasteners underneath the bolster mat are securely attached to the bed frame.

Problem	Possible Cause	Solution
Pet is hesitant to use the bed.	New environment, unfamiliar texture, or preference for softer surfaces.	Introduce the bed gradually. Place familiar toys or blankets on it. For senior pets, the bolster mat might be slightly slippery; consider adding a non-slip pad under their usual blanket if needed.
