TROUBLESHOOTING

Foam Not Fully Expanded

If the memory foam does not fully expand after 48 hours, ensure it was completely removed from its vacuum-sealed packaging. Gently massage the foam to help it regain its shape. Allow additional time in a well-ventilated room.

Cover Difficult to Zip

If the cover is difficult to zip, ensure the foam is correctly aligned within the cover and not bunched up. Gently compress the foam while zipping to ease the process.

Odor from New Foam

A slight odor may be present when the memory foam is first unpacked. This is normal and harmless. Allow the foam to air out in a well-ventilated area for 24-48 hours before use.
