TROUBLESHOOTING

While Mzero Amaro is a stable product, here are some common inquiries and their resolutions:

Issue	Possible Cause	Solution
Flavor seems off or diminished.	Improper storage (e.g., exposure to air, heat, or light).	Ensure the bottle is hermetically sealed after each use and stored in a cool, dry place away from direct sunlight.
Sediment at the bottom of the bottle.	Natural occurrence due to herbal ingredients; not harmful.	This is normal for products made with natural ingredients. It does not affect the quality or safety of the amaro. Gently shake the bottle if desired, or pour carefully to avoid disturbing the sediment.
Bottle cap is difficult to open.	Tight seal or slight stickiness from product residue.	Apply firm, steady pressure while twisting. If residue is present, wipe the rim of the bottle before closing.
