3. SETUP

Connecting to Devices

1. Identify the correct cable end: Use the 2-in-1 cable provided. The cable features both a USB-C connector and a convertible USB-A connector.

2. Connect to the SSD: Plug the USB-C end of the cable into the USB-C port on the ORICO C10 External SSD.
3. Connect to your device:
 - For devices with a USB-C port (e.g., modern smartphones, tablets, laptops), use the USB-C end of the cable.
 - For devices with a standard USB-A port (e.g., older laptops, desktops), convert the USB-C end of the cable to USB-A by sliding the outer casing.
4. Plug and Play: The SSD is plug-and-play. Your device should automatically recognize the drive without requiring additional drivers.

6. TROUBLESHOOTING

Issue	Possible Solution
-------	-------------------

Issue	Possible Solution
Device not recognized	Ensure the cable is securely connected to both the SSD and your device. Try a different USB port or restart your device.
Slow transfer speeds	Verify that your device's USB port supports USB 3.2 Gen 2 (10Gbps) for optimal speeds. Older USB 2.0 ports will result in significantly slower transfers. Ensure the cable is not damaged.
SSD feels warm during use	This is normal, especially during prolonged high-speed data transfers. The aluminum casing is designed to dissipate heat efficiently. If it becomes excessively hot, disconnect and allow it to cool.
Data corruption or loss	Always safely eject the SSD before disconnecting. Avoid physical shocks or drops. If issues persist, consider backing up data and reformatting the drive (this will erase all data).
