7. MAINTENANCE

- Cleaning Brushes: Clean brushes immediately after use with water. For dried acrylics, a brush cleaner may be necessary.
- Cleaning Palette: The mixing palette can be easily cleaned with water while the ink is wet. For dried ink, gently scrape or use a mild solvent if needed.
- Storage: Store ink bottles upright in a cool, dry place away from direct sunlight. Ensure caps are tightly sealed to prevent drying.
- Correcting Mistakes: On non-absorbent surfaces like wood or glass, mistakes can often be removed with a simple wipe of alcohol before the ink fully cures.

8. TROUBLESHOOTING

- Staining: Acrylic inks are highly pigmented and can stain skin and surfaces. Always wear gloves and protect your workspace. If skin staining occurs, wash immediately with soap and water. Persistent stains may fade over time.
- Color Opacity/Transparency: While these are acrylic inks, some users may find them more opaque than traditional transparent inks. For more transparent effects, dilute with water or an appropriate acrylic medium.

- Ink Drying in Bottle: Ensure bottle caps are securely tightened after each use. If ink thickens, a few drops of distilled water or acrylic flow improver may help restore consistency, but avoid over-dilution.
