4. APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

Achieve a long-lasting gel manicure by following these four steps:

COMMON PROBLEMS

• Not Dry Or Wrinkles After Curing?

UV light, base coat and top coat are essentials for gel polish. Lack any one of them will result in instant peeling off and failure curing the gel. Also, always apply thin layers and use a nail lamp with sufficient power.

• Last Only Very Short Time?

Normally it is due to not having the nails fully prepped. Just make sure you prep well by using a buffer to give your nail texture for the gel to cling to.

• How Do I Further Prep My Nails?

Use alcohol to clean and dehydrate your nail prior to application. You may also use a nail primer to treat your nails to make gel polishes adhere better to your nail plate.

1. Nail Prep: Buff the nail plate to create a texture that helps the gel adhere. Clean and dehydrate your nails prior to application. You may also use a nail primer for better adhesion.
2. Base Coat: Apply a thin layer of base coat. Cure under a UV/LED light for 60 seconds. Do not wipe the sticky layer.
3. Color Gel: Apply two thin layers of your chosen color gel. Cure each layer for 60 seconds. Ensure to cap the nail tips to prevent chipping.
4. Top Coat: Apply either the glossy or matte top coat to seal the gel. Cure for 60 seconds. This step prevents chipping and provides the desired finish.

5. CURING REQUIREMENTS

All gel polish layers (base coat, color gel, and top coat) require curing under a UV or LED light. Each layer should be cured for approximately 60 seconds to ensure a complete dry and proper adhesion. Insufficient curing can lead to peeling or wrinkling.

6. LONGEVITY AND MAINTENANCE

When properly applied, including thorough nail buffing and the use of both base and top coats, your gel manicure can last approximately 4 weeks. To maintain the manicure, avoid prolonged exposure to harsh chemicals and excessive water, which can affect durability.
