OPERATING INSTRUCTIONS

The unique design of the JAKI roses allows for adjustable blooming states.

Adjusting the Bloom

Each black rose features a linkage structure that enables the petals to open and close. To adjust the bloom:

- Gently rotate the bottom of the connecting rod device counterclockwise to expand the petals and achieve a more open, blooming appearance.
- Rotate the bottom of the connecting rod device clockwise to collapse the petals, creating a bud or partially closed rose.

You can customize each rose to be a bud, half-open, or fully bloomed to suit your display preferences.
