How to find the right size of strap for your smartwatch

Before this guide is used, please do not adjust the size of the strap to your wrist. The strap is designed to fit your wrist comfortably and securely. If you are having difficulty finding the right size, please contact your local retailer or the manufacturer's customer service.

1. Measure your wrist with a string or a flexible measuring tape. The measurement should be taken around the widest part of your wrist, just below the bone.

2. Compare the measurement to the strap size chart. The strap size chart is located on the right side of the page.

3. Select the strap size that corresponds to your measurement. The strap size chart is located on the right side of the page.

4. Adjust the strap to the selected size. The strap should be adjusted to fit your wrist comfortably and securely.

Size verification
