FAQs

How long does the YSD-1406 battery last per charge?

The official specifications list a 2400 mAh battery, but they don't provide exact runtime figures. Based on typical Bluetooth speakers of similar size, you might expect around 4–8 hours of playback on a full charge at moderate volume—though your mileage may vary depending on usage and settings.

Does the speaker include a microphone and remote control?

The standard package includes a charging cable and a manual. A microphone or remote control is not explicitly listed, so they may not be included by default. If you need them for karaoke or convenience, you may need to purchase them separately or confirm with the supplier before ordering.
