Words from The Product Designer

Hi dear friends,

This is Mason from Glocusent. I am always excited to connect with you through our original products and hope you all enjoy it.

After 3 years in the book light industry, we've been collecting your feedback and voices to design this multipurpose clip on reading light. Many of you are avid readers, artists, architects, or handymen who need a decent lamp to get better concentration or to reduce eye strain. We believe this clamp light will be your perfect lighting aid in your study room or workshop. Here are the considerate designs that will upgrade your experience:

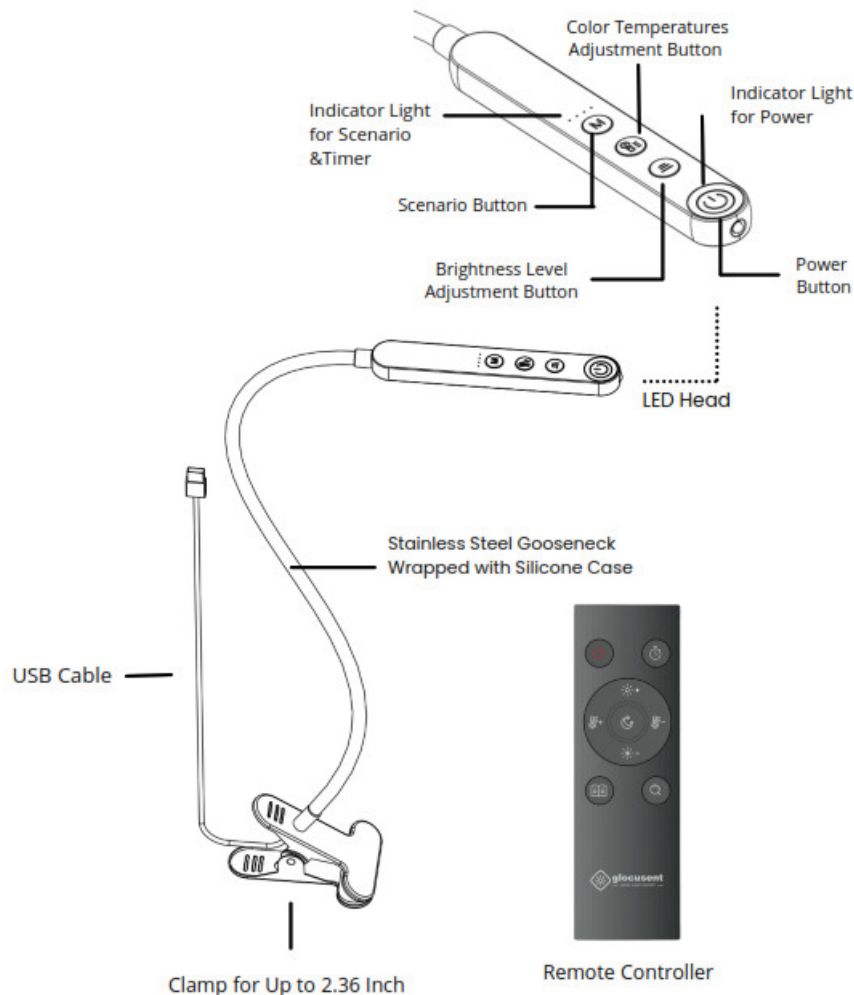

- Stepless brightness levels and multi-color temperatures allow you to customize your favorite settings to relax your eyes and boost your effectiveness;
- 1800K color temperature is 99.9% blue light filtered for best eye care;
- 30-min auto-off timer makes a good reminder for you to rest if you use Pomodoro Technique to work;
- 78-inch cord makes it extra convenient as you can move it around with you;
- It comes with a remote controller for better convenience;
- A stable & sturdy clamp allows you to attach the light to any thick surface.

This elegant book light is a subtle add-on to your room. It brings you not only excellent lighting but also strong practicality. We look forward to receiving your feedback or suggestions about our product, and don't forget to tag us on social media to show your enjoyable reading time with our book light.

Glocusent is always dedicated to bringing you the finest book lights, and we'd like to hear your voice and suggestion so then we can improve our products and services. Once your advice has been taken into designing our next products, we will put your name on our contributor list in the product manual.

Thank you for your support, Mason
