JUNO G-Type Adapter

Product Information

The G-Type Adapter is a device used for connecting and securing an adapter box into a track. It is designed to ensure a secure and stable connection between the adapter box and the track rails.

Product Usage Instructions

1. Locate the latch and the polarity line on the G-Type Adapter.
2. Align the parts as shown below.
3. Insert the adapter box into the track, making sure it fits securely.
4. Rotate the adapter box in the opposite direction of the arrows until the latch snaps in place between the two track rails.
5. Continue to depress the latch until the adapter box reaches its final position.
6. Ensure that the latch snaps into place securely between the rails.

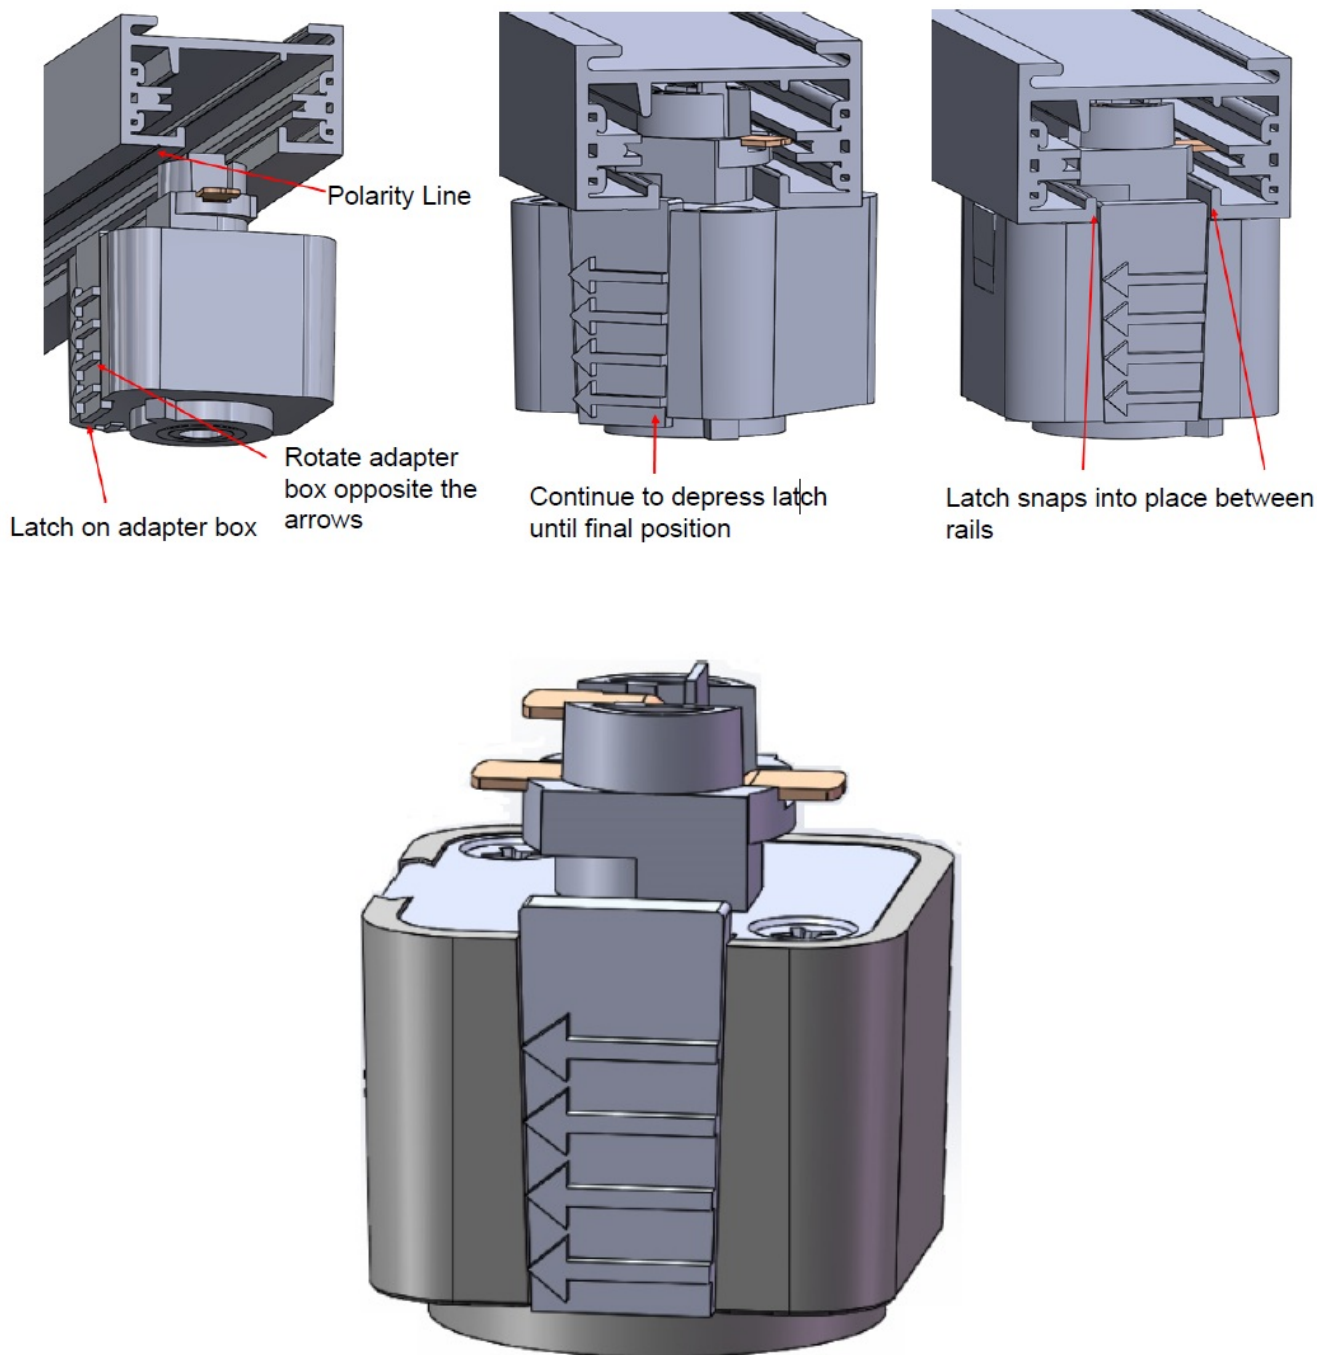

Note: It is important to save these installation instructions for future reference.
