Our magnetic building blocks are designed with children in mind. Regardless of ability, all critical thinking elements are used when playing with this product. A combination of fun, curiosity, sensory skills and brain development will contribute to a balanced use of your child's play time. Our play book will help you to get started. Your imagination then takes over, allowing you to build all sorts of wonderful things. We would love for you to share your experience with us. Check out our website for more ideas and our instructional video for beginners at www.limmyskids.com/play Have fun! Limmys
