Franke is Swiss - specialists in kitchen solutions.

Founded in Switzerland in 1911, Franke has grown to become the world's largest manufacturer of kitchen sinks, leading the industry in design, quality and innovation.

Switzerland is a highly innovative country. And not by chance, or momentarily, but by tradition. Compared to other European countries Swiss companies invest a high percentage of revenue in research and work in close consultation with universities. It is of little surprise therefore, that Switzerland leads the world in its number of patent applications.

Franke Aarburg cherishes the same innovative spirit. And does so by tradition, like Switzerland itself. Time and time again the company has come up with ground breaking inventions since its foundation by Hermann Franke in 1911. Franke is now recognized as a global leader and operates offices in over 50 countries and manufacturing plants in over 20.

Franke's Kitchen Systems Division, incorporates all that is used in the domestic kitchen from Sinks, Cooking Appliances, Taps, Waste Management Systems and Accessories that form the total food preparation centre.

Undermount Installation Guide

A template and fixing instructions are provided in the box. Some circumstances may allow for fitting a bowl directly to the worktop. Alternatively a plywood template can be made to the size of the sink, which will effectively 'sandwich' the sink flange, when addressed to the underside of the material. (Refer to diagrams below).

We would recommend the use of a sealant between the flange of the sink and the worktop to avoid any water ingress. In all cases you are advised to consult your supplier.
