Innovative PTS* technology

for LANDMANN gas barbecues

Our custom-developed, globally patented PTS+ system technology is a trend-setting cooking system that is used exclusively in LANDMANN gas barbecue models.

With its dual benefits – optimum heat distribution and easy cleaning – the successful LANDMANN concept has raised the bar in this device category.

Even temperature for outstanding BBQ results

Working on a cooking area with uneven heat distribution can be a challenge: Expensive food is heated unevenly, it can burn or it does not cook property. Apart from the output of the gas barbecue burner, even temperature distribution is therefore of utmost importance. PTS stands for "Power Thermal Spreading System". Most importantly, it ensures even heat transfer and distribution on the cooking grill. The cooking temperature can be duly controlled at every heat level. The risk of cold zones and heat blocks is greatly reduced. Thus, searing and precise indirect cooking become child's play.

Less residue, easy cleaning

The second major benefit achieved by integrating PTS+ can be summarised under the keyword Easy Clean. This means: easy cleaning and much less residue.

Easy Clean cooking grates: The innovative grate system enables easy access to all parts of the cooking grill. When cleaning the device, no residue remains in hidden corners.

Easy Clean fire box: A special construction makes sure that dripping grease is collected in the grease tray.

PTS+ flame tamers: Apart from their heat distribution function, their special positioning effectively prevents the grease from catching fire. This greatly reduces encrustation.
