CST Tripod Stand Setup

- Loosen all three height adjustment knobs, raise or lower the tripod to your desired height, and securely tighten each knob to lock the position.

- Loosen the three bottom adjustment knobs to spread the tripod legs. Once the legs are spread to the required width, ensure all knobs are tightened firmly to secure the setup.

Aluminum Tripod Spreader

- If using a spreader, place it flat on the floor. Adjust the spreader arms to the required width using the provided knob.

- The spreader is now fully and properly opened.

- Mount the tripod leg onto the spreader.

- Check if the rubber gripper is properly aligned with the tripod leg.
- If the gripper doesn't fit properly, adjust its position.

- Loosen its screws using a screwdriver (not included) from both sides.

- Position the rubber gripper to fit snugly around the tripod leg.

- Tighten both the screws using a screwdriver.

- Mount the rubber gripper firmly onto the tripod leg.

- The tripod and spreader are now securely attached, as shown in the image.
