The Campaign for Miss Porter's School Exceeds Goal

T H E C E L E B R A T I O N

Dear Miss Porter's School Community,

On June 30, 2011, Miss Porter's School concluded the largest fundraising campaign in the school's history. Conducted in two phases, The Campaign for Miss Porter's School raised a grand total of $88 million.

With our feet firmly planted in the present and our eyes looking to the future of Miss Porter's School, the board of trustees began planning for this campaign in 1999. In 2007, Phase I ended, having exceeded the goal of $50 million with a total of more than $54 million. Phase II was immediately launched with a goal of $25 million—a figure that was raised to $32 million—and ultimately, the second phase also exceeded its goal with a total of more than $33 million.

We are proud to provide this report of the success of The Campaign for Miss Porter's School in a special issue of The Bulletin of Miss Porter's School. The achievement of the campaign is a testament to the generosity of Miss Porter's School's Ancients, parents and friends, and we are proud to share the efforts of their philanthropy with the entire school community.

Listed in these pages are those who responded to the school's present needs through support of the Annual Fund, and the needs of the future through unrestricted gifts, gifts to endowment and deferred gifts. On behalf of the board of trustees, the faculty and staff, current students and those future New Girls and Old Girls alike who will benefit from this campaign, we share our sincere thanks.

With appreciation,

Handwritten signatures of Janet Isham Field and Mimi Colgate Kirk in cursive script.

THE PARTICULARS

The Campaign for Miss Porter's School was launched to further secure our place among the finest schools. By increasing operating support and growing the school's endowment, we have strengthened the vital elements for conducting the school's mission: talented faculty, rigorous academic programs, generous scholarships, essential technology and well-maintained facilities.

Unrestricted and Undesignated Endowment

No gifts are more useful to Miss Porter's School, nor greater expressions of confidence in and support for the institution and its leadership, than those made without restriction or designation. Such funds allow the school unparalleled flexibility in responding to the opportunities that may surface in today's fast-changing educational environment. The Campaign for Miss Porter's School added $26,121,463 to the unrestricted and undesignated portion of the endowment. Five million dollars of that total was comprised of gifts in celebration of M. Burch Tracy Ford at the conclusion of her fifteen-year tenure as head of school in 2008.

Academic and Faculty Support

The greatest strength of any school is its faculty, and Miss Porter's School is committed to recruiting, rewarding, and retaining the best teachers. The Campaign for Miss Porter's School received $10,450,586 in gifts supporting the academic life of the school. These gifts created new funds for teaching, professional development, and classroom technology.

Financial Aid and Student Life

Funds for need-based financial aid and merit scholarships are critical if Miss Porter's School is to enroll bright, motivated girls whose academic achievement, leadership, character, and artistic and athletic abilities distinguish them, and to build a student community diverse in talent, interests, culture, race, religion, and geography. The Campaign for Miss Porter's School added $7,875,176 to the endowment for financial aid and student life, but this area remains one of particular ongoing need as the school looks toward the future.

Academic Facilities and Other Gifts

The Campaign for Miss Porter's School generated significant funds to ensure the maintenance, growth and enhancement of the school's unique and historically significant campus.

The Campaign for Miss Porter's School received gifts of $10,398,621 in support of academic and residential facilities and campus planning.

Annual Fund

The Annual Fund supports the Miss Porter's School experience: fine teachers, a beautiful campus, a diverse and talented student body, vast clubs, activities, and sports teams. The resources the Annual Fund routinely adds to the operating budget are of great importance to the school; such gifts are a way every Miss Porter's School constituent can express affection, admiration, and support for the school.

From the planning stages to the conclusion of The Campaign for Miss Porter's School, gifts to the Annual Fund totaled $21,960,444.

Estate Giving

Always an indispensable part of philanthropy, The Campaign for Miss Porter's School saw a particularly generous degree of support recorded through gifts of bequest, through the designation of the assets in a qualified retirement plan and through charitable gift annuities. These "future gifts" are a generous manifestation of faith in the generations of Farmington girls yet-to-come and a significant means for ensuring an individual's part in the school's legacy of learning. The Campaign for Miss Porter's School total includes more than $9 million in future gifts.

Why Undesignated Giving?

Of all the ways to support Miss Porter's School, the most effective is undesignated giving. Funds contributed without restriction by the donor allow the school the maximum flexibility in deploying its resources to meet the most pressing institutional needs. This enables the board of trustees to lead the school and manage its progress in the best ways possible. How does making such a gift support the vibrant enterprise that is Miss Porter's School? Contributions to undesignated funds touch every aspect of campus life—from the classrooms and the library, to the athletic fields, arts studios, and the dormitories.

LOOKING FORWARD : CELEBRATING OUR SHARED ACHIEVEMENTS

Miss Porter's School is prepared as an institution to capture opportunities, to meet challenges, and to claim the exemplar. We have declared our ambition to be the exemplary girls' school through our strategic planning work and in the development of our guiding principle statements.

Through the successful completion of The Campaign for Miss Porter's School, the largest in our school's history, we are one step closer to achieving all that we believe is possible. This campaign helps to secure our current operations while ensuring our ability to attain our visionary goals. We will be able to continue to offer the very best and most relevant education to the very brightest young women, for whom Miss Porter's School is their first choice in their secondary school options.

In a time when the merits of single-sex education are still debated, Miss Porter's School is experiencing the largest enrollment in the school's history, with 333 students. Our admission yield has exceeded 50 percent for the second consecutive year, while our acceptance rate has decreased by nine percent. For us, there is no question about the value of girls' schools, but more importantly, there is no question about the value of a Miss Porter's School education. We are proud to state that we keep the promise articulated by our mission statement, we define our institutional goals and practices, and we inspire by setting our aspirations high. We are known to say what we do and do what we say.

As your Head of School, it is my job to address the school's current needs while looking forward to what lies ahead. I can assure you that the future will hold more of the same. We will continue to build on the remarkable work of those who have come before us, to celebrate the successes we enjoy, and to move forward seeking and setting the best practices for girls' education.

You should feel proud of what the successful conclusion of The Campaign for Miss Porter's School means for our school and confident that your ongoing philanthropic support will leverage its effects to improve all of the resources available for our students. The successes of Miss Porter's School are our shared achievements, and your support of the campaign has been essential. We could not have done it without you. And, we will not be able to do it without you. Within our legacy lies our future.

Sincerely,

Katherine G. Windsor, Ed.D.
Head of School

OUR GENEROUS DONORS

Donors listed here are those whose cumulative gifts and pledges from July 1, 1999 to June 30, 2011 equal $1,000 or more. Miss Porter's School is grateful to all donors whose gifts made The Campaign for Miss Porter's School a success. All other donors are recognized by the school's Annual Report.

 Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Bohinc

Miss Porter's School provided a critical foundation for my daughters, Allison '07 and Katie '09, to excel in college and beyond. Our endowment gift will hopefully perpetuate that experience for many girls in the years to come, for when you look at the problems facing America today, a strong education is not merely "nice to have" but rather, it is vital. An education like Miss Porter's School provides is one of the most valuable gifts that you can provide your children.

I am so proud of what the school has become—a vibrant, intellectually challenging, warm, and fun-filled environment that is proof that single-sex education is relevant today. I view annual support as an annual reaffirmation of my support for the mission of Porter's, and I believe it is critical to provide unrestricted annual giving to give the administration the flexibility to meet the school's needs as they arise.

The Annual Fund grew by 84 percent during The Campaign for Miss Porter's School, and its final year, there were remarkable examples of annual giving as an expression of community building. In 2010-11, every member of the senior class made a gift in support of the Annual Fund. Following their lead, 100 percent of the school's faculty and staff, board of trustees, Alumnae Board, Nominating Committee, and Parent Leadership Committee also made gifts to the Annual Fund. This collective show of support may have inspired Ancients, who increased their participation in the Annual Fund by ten percent during this same time.

My sister Pam Paton '56 tragically lost her life the summer after her first year at Miss Porter's School, but she had told me several times in that spring of 1953 that she had never been happier. I adored my sister, and I appreciate the opportunity to be able to give a scholarship in her memory. It helps me honor and remember Pam while helping other students have the privilege of a Porter's education. I also get to know each student who receives her scholarship, so how can I lose?

BULLETIN | points

With an issue dedicated to celebrating the accomplishments of Miss Porter's School, it seems only fitting to share a new feature for The Bulletin, "News from the Faculty Room."

Porter's faculty and staff are dedicated to the pursuit of professional excellence, and I think you will find the news of their accomplishments a fitting inclusion for our magazine. Their work exemplifies their commitment to our core characteristics of intellectual curiosity, leadership, global citizenship, integrity, and courage.

Happy reading!

Sincerely,

Siobhan Federici
 Director of Communications

Lessons Learned on the Campaign Trail

Campaign Co-Chair Janet Isham Field '66 on Education and Engagement through Volunteering

“My volunteer experience began just like many others have,” recalls Trustee Janet Isham Field '66. “It was my 25th Reunion and I agreed to chair my class’s committee. But, my fundraising for school really began in earnest when I was asked to serve on the Campaign Executive Council during Phase I of the Campaign for Miss Porter’s School.”

In 2007, Janet became a trustee and with her new role, there came a new request—to co-chair the capital campaign. The assignment would be a significant undertaking, and Janet thought closely about the prospect. “Ultimately, I decided that this was an effort that I could make for the betterment of school, and that it was a compliment to be asked to serve in this capacity. And, as it turned out, I was never sorry that I said yes.”

Working with the campaign provided Janet with opportunities for education and engagement. “Believe it or not, the greatest challenge I overcame through this volunteer opportunity was learning how to ask for major gifts. It may sound peculiar that I had to learn this after accepting the co-chair responsibility, but while I had certainly raised money for school before, this was a whole new level. It took some learning by doing, and I appreciated the assistance I received from the Development Office.”

During the campaign, Janet’s enthusiasm was maintained by staying closely connected to school. She credits the weekly campaign phone meetings for keeping her inspired. “We caught up on school life, campaign updates, brainstormed strategies, and discussed regional events. It was always fun for us to attend Farmington receptions around the country. We enjoyed spending time with Head of School Kate Windsor, who never failed to impress those in attendance. Her leadership and call to ‘claim the exemplar’ should inspire each of us to do our personal best on behalf of and in support of Farmington.”

For Janet, the achievement of the campaign is a shared accomplishment. “It was the effort of volunteers that made the success of this campaign possible,” she says. “It was certainly their excitement and enthusiasm that helped to increase Ancient Annual Fund participation from 33 percent to an amazing 42.39 percent last year. Every gift was important and significant—the first gift adding to the second to the third and so on right up until we reached our goal on June 30.”

Janet believes the Principal Gifts Group, a committee of truly dedicated Ancients who met monthly via conference call during the campaign, deserve special recognition. “The PGG was really the campaign volunteer nerve center, and these dedicated women were critical to our ability to meet our goal.”

Such committed volunteers were essential, for the campaign was not without its trials. As Janet recalls, “We were only one year into the second phase when the economic outlook changed so dramatically. We were forced to think about new strategies in order to balance the need to continue to move forward with the economic uncertainties that confronted our donors.” It also was of particular importance to educate donors on the value of unrestricted giving during this time as these gifts give the school the most financial flexibility.

“I feel good about the donors whom I solicited for the campaign,” shares Janet. “Their commitment to the school and their thoughtful generosity is inspiring, and I truly know that their ‘treasure’ will be well stewarded and well used by the school.”

“If I learned one thing about being a donor through this experience it is this: decide what you are passionate about, ask questions, listen, consider and make your best gift using a vehicle that works best for you, whether an outright gift, a multi-year pledge, or a planned gift. Then enjoy the wonderful feeling that comes from what you have done to help ‘shape a changing world’!”

A Role Model's Role Models

Campaign Co-Chair Mimi Colgate Kirk '57 Describes the Evolution of Her Experience as a Volunteer

First off, I have loved being a volunteer for Miss Porter's School," says Trustee Mimi Colgate Kirk, when asked about her now 44 years championing Farmington. "My experience has been filled with great fun and plentiful opportunities to work with remarkable role models."

In 1967, Mimi joined the school's Fairfield-Westchester branch. Each year, the group provided a cultural event for their members, whether a trip to a museum or a visit from a faculty member. "It was a wonderful way to reconnect with school," shares Mimi.

After years as branch volunteer, Farmington Founder, and Annual Fund representative, Mimi joined the Alumnae Board. "Lucy Cutting '54 was the then president of the Alumnae Board. I was so impressed with her. I had been a stay-at-home mom, and I had not been exposed to women holding leadership positions. Lucy was the first of my Farmington role models."

In 1984, Mimi took on what she refers to as her "first grown-up job" as a volunteer, heading Annual Fund efforts. "We would have telethons in New York City with sandwiches made and transported by Lynne Stewart '75 and myself. I remember lots of hard work but much enthusiasm. Alumnae participation was an impressive 55 percent, but we raised only 25 percent of the funds we do now!"

Mimi became a member of the board of trustees in 1990. Despite her already impressive resume, she did not immediately feel ready for the role. "Although I was still getting acclimated, it was very inspiring to watch these women run meetings, make decisions and lead campaigns. Edwina Millington '49, Caroline Macomber '50, Margee Harper '53, Missy Crisp '59 and Missie Rennie Taylor '64 were more wonderful role models for me in their dedication."

In 1993, something changed and in turn, so did Mimi. "With the arrival of Burch Ford as head of school, I could sense a shift in direction—girls were expected to be leaders. I found this new direction extremely exciting, and I was happy to try to make it happen," she recalls.

Enthused, Mimi took on the charge, working closely with former Director of Development Kathi O'Connor. "Doing any job for Kathi was a delight. She could make me feel like I had done a fantastic job even if I had only made a phone call." Mimi's efforts did not go unnoticed. "Five years ago, two more role models, Judy Holden '68 and Barbara Epifanio '79 (daughter of Judy Higgins '54, role model exemplar) asked if I would rejoin the board and co-chair the campaign's second phase with Janet Field '66."

With this new undertaking, Mimi found great reward. "Julia McCormack, senior director of institutional advancement, and Eric Ort, director of leadership gifts, never questioned our ability to meet our goal, despite the economic challenges we faced," she states. "Then, along came Head of School Kate Windsor, yet another role model. With her at the helm, our students are bound to grow up with the chance, courage, and confidence to shape a changing world."

Mimi Colgate Kirk '57

At the close of the campaign, Mimi is quick to point out those she believes deserve the real credit. "I am so grateful for the support the school has received from our donors and volunteers. We could not have been successful without their great efforts." And, though her work is complete, Mimi has a new mission.

"I'd still like to reach out to all those available Ancients who are not yet engaged with school. It is so important for alumnae to experience school as it is today—how different it is and yet how it retains so much of what we remember—and to know that Farmington is, and will always be, our home," she says. "I'd like to show them how they too can volunteer, have fun and become philanthropic leaders. For when women realize their ability to make meaningful gifts, anything is possible."

Fulbright Scholar Jacqueline Sofia '05 Heads to Jordan

Jacqueline Sofia '05

Fulbright Scholar Award winner Jacqueline (Jackie) Sofia earned her bachelor's degree in international studies from Johns Hopkins University in 2009. She is a part-time graduate student at the university's Center for Global Health at the Bloomberg School of Public Health, where she formerly served as a program associate.

Jackie Sofia spent her high school and college careers with a sense of commitment to the world but believed the knowledge she sought to become a global citizen could not be found inside a classroom or within a textbook.

Her inspiration to apply for a Fulbright Scholar Award derived from her work with Dr. Nancy Glass at the Johns Hopkins University School of Nursing. Dr. Glass had selected Jackie to be her research assistant at the House of Ruth, a shelter for survivors of inter-partner violence in the city of Baltimore. Jackie's work with these women was an awakening, "It made me realize that there was so much more to learn, and that these women's stories told a whole host of truths about the world. Their wisdom regarding life's hurdles was more extensive than anything I would learn in school."

In Jordan, Jackie will study the institutional response to female domestic violence in partnership with a foundation and a national commission to implement methods for first-responders. "I am hoping to gain greater insight on what is being done for female survivors and current victims of inter-partner violence," she shares. "There has been a lot of documented progress in the past five years, but I am interested in talking with those who are more closely working within the support system: healthcare professionals, lawyers, activists, professors. What is their perspective on the current situation, and what greater improvements can be made?"

Her goals are ambitious, and the trip is not without its own unique first. "This is my first time traveling abroad, so I am already prepared to experience a lot of ups and downs along the way. I never wanted my first time visiting a foreign country to be a vacation of any sort; I always imagined it being a truly meaningful time in my life that would throw everything I've ever known on its head and make me ask a lot of questions, both of myself and of society on a global scale."

Jackie realizes that her trip will be filled with highs and lows and welcomes the personal growth derived from both. "Despite whatever struggles I may encounter, I'm looking forward to welcoming them with open arms," she states. "I am looking to take myself out of my comfort zone and to gain as much experience as I do humility on this trip.

"The people you meet and come to know, whether you've spoken for five minutes or five years, can be the most influential encounters in your life."

—JACQUELINE SOFIA '05

"In the end, I want my time in Jordan to provide me with an even greater sense of curiosity about the world and a greater desire to influence it for the better," continues Jackie. "I do see the Fulbright as a stepping stone [to shaping a changing world]; however, I don't know if I will so much shape a changing world this time, but learn a great deal about the world that will hopefully benefit others. For me, the mission has a deeper meaning, that in the end we will not only shape the world, but it will also shape us."

Tools for the 21st Century

Porter's Joins the Online School for Girls

Miss Porter's School has been selected as a consortium member of the Online School for Girls.

The Online School for Girls (OSG) is the world's first girls' only online school. The school offers a challenging and supportive online learning experience that emphasizes connections among participants; incorporates collaboration into the learning experience; inspires and rewards creativity; and engages in real-world problems and applications while having students probe the social and ethical dynamics that define and stretch our global society.

"The Online School for Girls broadens the educational opportunities available to girls by offering an independent school experience that is not limited by location," states Head of School Kate Windsor. "Like traditional independent schools, OSG teaches girls what it means to be literate, participatory, and fluent in the tools of the 21st century. The very delivery mechanism of OSG coursework provides a compounding effect of the curriculum by teaching a skill set vital to girls today: technology, communication, analysis, and access to global concepts."

"We are thrilled that a school of the caliber of Miss Porter's School is joining our efforts to create the best possible online courses for girls and professional development options for faculty members," said Brad Rathgeber, director of the Online School for Girls. "Miss Porter's School has a longstanding reputation both within their local market and nationally for providing a challenging and supporting learning environment for girls. By becoming members of the Online School for Girls, they will help bring a great classroom experience online."

OSG teachers are scholars and faculty leaders at their home campuses who lead initiatives in science, technology, engineering and math curriculums, global programs, and leadership development. They know that girls need to feel strong connections with their teachers and peers, and to work collaboratively in the classroom. More than a remote, individualized online curriculum, an OSG class is an active, engaging classroom.

In its OSG courses, students are brought together from around the world within a construct similar to campus-based girls' schools. With their teachers, students create a creative learning experience within an online classroom specifically tailored to the ways that girls learn best. Classes have no more than twenty students, and students are known and appreciated.

A candidate for accreditation by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools, approved by College Board for Advanced Placement instruction, and a member of the National Association of Schools, the Online School for Girls stands alone as the online educational option that understands the unique position girls occupy in the online educational space. By aligning itself with such an institution, Miss Porter's School has the opportunity to develop a long-standing relationship with the organization and to delve deeply into the options OSG presents for our students and faculty.

Art and Service in the Dominican Republic

This summer, ten students joined Photography Teacher Marlo Marrero, House Director Raegan Chekas, and Ancient Sloane Sandler '05 for a ten-day art and service trip to the Dominican Republic.

For the first six days, the group camped in Los Calabazos. Hiking in and out of the mountainous region with cameras and equipment in tow was a significant undertaking, but the group began the work of their trip enthusiastically as they delved into their photography and pottery craft.

Gracie Maull

In Los Calabazos, the group benefited from a special guide. Joining them on their trip was Artist Angels Tello Pardo, founder of AMUCA, a non-profit dedicated to revitalizing the traditions of Taino clay sculpture by teaching Dominican farm women self-worth through the art of ceramics. Ms. Tello Pardo introduced the group to her work and the women of her cooperative.

“Under her guidance, we were more than just students of pottery, we were students of life,” states Ms. Marrero. “We were humbled as we met humble women. They shared with us what it means to be a woman in rural Dominican culture, and our girls talked about the culture of being a teenage girl in the United States.”

“Angels taught me that anyone can help others and that by helping others, you help yourself,” says Isabel Blank '13, and Ms. Marrero agrees. “By experiencing the workshop Angels teaches the local women, we learned how the women of AMUCA develop self-confidence and awareness through the initiative,” she says. “Our students had a new appreciation for empowerment and self-esteem and how it can be gained through art.”

The group then traveled to Sosua, a resort town, where they experienced the disheartening contrast of the resort experience versus the poverty of the local community. In Carbarete, the group had an educational meeting with the executive director of The Mariposa Foundation, an organization dedicated to the urgent need for community-based solutions to end poverty, to learn about their work to tackle these social issues.

Students appreciated engaging in a complete immersion experience. “I have fallen in love with this country, this culture and this language,” enthuses Ymani Francis '12, and Isabel expounds on the transformative journey. I put myself out there to accept all the good and all the bad, and I am unbelievably proud and happy that I did.”

“It was my mission to give the girls permission to experience our trip from a place of being instead of doing,” recalls Ms. Marrero. “Our experience was guided by weather, land and culture, not bound by time, production and results.”

The trip culminated in an exhibition of photographs and pottery in the Donaldson Gallery in the Olin Arts and Sciences building by the Porter's group, Ms. Tello Pardo and the women of AMUCA. It was a reunion of sorts, as Ms. Tello Pardo traveled to Farmington to attend the reception and to lead workshops. ## Sophomores Named Squash Scholar-Athletes

Varsity squash team members Courtney Anderson and Elizabeth (Liddy) Renner have earned U.S. Squash Scholar-Athlete awards. The award is granted to high school students who excel in both academics and squash, achieving a GPA of 3.5 or higher and competing in at least four U.S. Squash sanctioned tournaments in a specified one-year period.

Successful Summer for Golf Champ

Varsity golf team member June Conti '13 competed in the 55th Annual New England Women's Golf Association Championship and finished seven under the rest of the junior field to become the 2011 New England Women's Junior Amateur Champion.

June was also one of 36 junior golfers selected to compete in the Golf Digest Junior Pro-Am, part of the Travelers Championship Pro-Am. June was paired with PGA Tour pro Morgan Hoffman for a 9-hole scramble. The pair finished seven under par. June then competed in the Dutchess County Women's Amateur, shooting a four-over-par 148 to tie for second place in the two-day tournament.

Leading the Pack

Senior Nora Weathers experienced a successful start to the 2011 cross country season. A four-year varsity runner, Nora finished in first place in every race through November 1, including duel meets and invitationals. Nora even set a new course record at the Gordon Glover Invitational at Suffield Academy in Suffield, Conn. "Nora is known for her speed, grit, focus, determination, and outstanding leadership," shares Head Coach Kate Doemland. "Her work ethic, humility, and dedication to her team are inspirational to all."

Nora Weathers

BADMINTON

Highlights of the season include big wins over East Hartford and Hamden High Schools.

FIELD HOCKEY

Varsity Field Hockey's impressive win-loss record included eight shut-outs where the opposing team did not achieve one goal.

Junior Advisors Jump In

New Girl Orientation was made all the better by the enthusiastic contribution of Junior Advisors. These juniors are ready to role model by providing guidance and peer support to both New Girls and Old.

Swimming with Grace

MARCO MARRERO

Porter's community service club, Concordia, welcomed 39 Grace Academy students to campus for a day of educational activities. Grace Academy provides quality, tuition-free education to girls in grades five through eight from low-income families in Hartford.

Grace Academy students toured campus and the art studios, and participated in activities at the pool, including swimming lessons, water skills training, and water volleyball.

In the past year, Concordia has developed an ongoing relationship with the school. Porter's students visit Grace Academy weekly to provide students with homework assistance and music lessons. Co-Head Sarah Goldman '12 notes, "These girls are extremely motivated, and their dedication to education is astounding. It is great to be a part of their development."

Head over Heels for Porter's

The Porter's community kicked off the start of the school year with the annual carnival. Both students and faculty joined in the celebration which included a wealth of carnival games, bountiful cotton candy, and even a spontaneous cartwheel competition.

Reaching for the Top

Student leaders arrived on campus early for a leadership weekend of training and team-building activities. Events included a ROPES course experience, which proved we all can get by with a little help from our friends!

Admission 101

The Office of Admission led their third Annual Independent School Admission Workshop with co-host Avon Old Farms School this fall. Over 170 guests descended on Porter's campus to learn from student and parent workshops on the application process, interviewing skills, and the student experience.

Bright Smiles & Brighter Futures

HIGHPOINT PICTURES

Rebecca (Becky) Biklen

Friday, June 3, marked the 168th Commencement Exercises. Parents, students, faculty, and Ancients joined in celebrating the graduation of the 87 members of the Class of 2011.

After a welcome by Head of School Kate Windsor and remarks by Student Head of School Brandie Morris and Second Head of School Reyna Venkat, the audience was treated to an emotional and moving performance by the Perilhettes.

Graduates then listened to Jessica Jackley's commencement address. Ms. Jackley, the former chief marketing officer and one of the founders of www.kiva.org, the world's first peer-to-peer micro-lending website, is the founder and chief executive officer of www.profounder.com. She enthusiastically advised each graduate to seek out new adventures and to be purposeful in charting her own course.

The awarding of the diplomas was followed by several traditions, including the Hanging of the Daisy Wreath, carrying of the Daisy Chain, and singing of school songs at the fountain.

“Enjoy the feeling of being uniquely you and note it. Think about who you are and whom you would like to become—not what others, including your parents and your teachers, want for you, but what you want. Believe in yourself. This particular understanding of who you really are and what you really care about will serve you well as you delve into the many decisions you will have to make in your new place...It is with great confidence and much anticipation that I look forward to watching you shape a changing world.”

— excerpted from Dr. Katherine G. Windsor's commencement address.

Graduation Traditions

Hanging of the Daisy Wreath

Immediately following the presentation of diplomas, a wreath of daisies is hung to honor all Ancients, past and present. The seniors who have the largest number of Ancients in their families gather together, and the girl with the longest and closest line of legacies hangs the wreath. The Perilhettes and legacies then sing the Alma Mater, written by Margaret Williams in 1910.

“I leave Farmington a different person than I was when I arrived. I leave with undying friendships, with respect and gratitude for my teachers, and with excitement for the future. Most importantly, I leave knowing I will return, and knowing that, in the meanwhile, I will carry you all with me wherever I roam. Thanks, Class of 2011, for being my home.”

— by Emily Harris '11, excerpted from “Musings on Fortune” first published in Haggis/Baggis, June 2011

The Daisy Chain

There is no written record of when Miss Porter's School first adopted this tradition, though it is believed to date back to the late 19th century. Students wove the chain from daisies they picked in local fields and, in 1909, the “Daisy Chain Song” was written by senior Dorothy Draper. The seniors sing this song as they carry the chain from the Swan Pond up to the fountain garden. They are escorted by the Perilhettes, who carry crooks to help the girls keep the rhythm. Today, our local florist uses over 8,000 daisies to weave the “chain our hearts made fast and entwined around the school.”

Planting of the Ivy

Along its way to the fountain garden, the daisy chain stops at the American Beech, the largest tree on campus. When the girls reach the tree, the Student Head of School and Head of Perilhettes are given a silver trowel and a pot of ivy for planting at its base. Then the daisy chain resumes its course, and the ceremonial trowel is returned to its cabinet, safely locked away until the next graduation.

Singing at the Fountain

Since 1908, the songs “Moonbeams” and the Farmington “Alma Mater” have been sung at the fountain by all students and Ancients present. This marks the conclusion of graduation ceremonies. As the girls and their families disperse, members of the Archives Club cut a length of the daisy chain and take it to Sarah Porter's grave in Riverside Cemetery on Garden Street, where she has rested since 1900.

Rain could not dampen the spirits of the more than 250 Ancients and guests who returned to Farmington to celebrate Reunion 2011.

Back on campus, Ancients took the opportunity to attend classes, a lecture by 2011 Sarah Porter Award for Excellence in Teaching Award recipient Sarah Quinn, and an alumnae art show, "Art of the Ancients." The Gilbert and Donaldson Galleries displayed the work of Amelia B. Black '01, Kerry Bryan Brokaw '76, Ann S. Fisher '06, Robin Howe '76, Cynthia Cutting Robinson '81, Cassandra N. Rodrigues '06, Alicia Sands Tiberio '01, and Marguerite Cunningham Wilson '66.

The annual Gala Dinner included a Sarah Porter Society celebration commending former members of Miss Porter's School's Board of Trustees and Alumnae Board. Next, Renee Schanck Ross '36 was honored as the oldest Ancient in attendance, celebrating her 75th Reunion; Pippa Tubman Armerding '86 was recognized for traveling the greatest distance to celebrate with her class—to Farmington from South Africa; and Robin Rowan Clarke '56 was applauded as the very first Ancient to register for Reunion.

Saturday's program began with the Service of Remembrance and Thanksgiving featuring guest speaker Leith Speiden '61. After breakfast and student performances, it was time for the Alumnae Association meeting with presentations by Head of School Kate Windsor, Student Head of School Clare DeSantis '12, and Alumnae Board Co-Presidents Sloan Frazer Pendleton '85 and Alice Hamblin Williams '79, P'10. The Classes of 1961, 1963, and 2005 were presented with the Reunion Giving Bowl, the Annual Giving Bowl, and the Silver Pitcher respectively.

Following lunch and class photos, guests attended "Storytellers," a session in which Ancients in the literary arts shared inspiration and anecdotes. Poet Deming Pratt Holleran '61, travel and food writer Holly Chase '71, writer Susan Ritz '71, and designer and author Annie Laidlaw Selke '81 welcomed their classmates for a discussion moderated by Eleanor (Ellie) Parker Lindenmayer '01, a member of Miss Porter's School's English faculty. Annie Laidlaw Selke '81 offered a book signing after the presentation.

On Sunday, classmates enjoyed their last Reunion moments together over a lovely brunch before sharing their good-byes after a wonderful weekend together.

Every year, Reunion Weekend exemplifies what graduates know to be true: a Miss Porter's School relationship is a lifelong friendship.

Deborah Zinke de Camaret writes, “Having passed the fifth year in clinical psychology and psychopathology at the University of Toulouse, thus earning the title of clinical psychologist, I will be teaching three courses in psychology at the university, translating articles, and counseling at the International School of Toulouse. My daughter Alexandra and her husband, Philippe, and my two granddaughters Justine (12) and Camille (11) also live in Toulouse. My 90-year-old father and I will be taking a trip to Dordorge in September. I visit him and my two brothers in Cincinnati every Christmas.”

Meredith Montgomery Charreyron writes, “Our family of six has dispersed and relocated. Pierre and I (sadly) left the Alpine region of Grenoble for the northern plains of France and the small university town of Compiègne. With our two youngest at McGill, Juliette working with Warner Bros (Paris), and Simon living at L’Arche de Beauvais... our nest is empty. But there is lots to do with Pierre (the UTC university president) and me running a new chapter of VSArt (socio-cultural association) in Compiègne and working for VSArt in Paris as well. Come visit. We have just purchased a little ‘pied-à-terre’ in Paris XIème.”

Caitlin Read McNally writes, “I was diagnosed with breast cancer in the fall of 2008, right as I was poised to sign with my contractor for a gut rehab of my Summit, N.J. home. Miserable treatments including chemo, double mastectomy and radiation ensued. Two and a half years later, things are settling down, and my girls (9 and 12) are doing well. My mother and grandmother also had this miserable disease. So far I’m doing great, keeping fingers crossed.”

Tonya M. Meeks was profiled in the Women to Watch feature for The Commercial Appeal (Memphis, Tenn.) about her job as development manager for Shelby Farms Park. Tonya is a member of the Shelby County Conservation board and the Greening Greater Memphis board, and serves as adviser to the Green Jobs Memphis Planning Initiative. Women to Watch profiles women who are “successful, doing great things or making Memphis a better place.”

Karen T. Staib, a complex litigation attorney, was chosen by the Hartford Business Journal to receive its annual 40 Under Forty Award. The 40 Under Forty Award recognizes outstanding young professionals in the Greater Hartford area. Karen, a partner in the Hartford office of Shipman & Goodwin, was recognized for her commitment to success, personal growth, and community involvement. She is a member of Miss Porter’s School’s Board of Trustees.

Amy M. Woodford writes, “Hi everyone! We enjoyed the summer on the farm, riding the horses out across the beautiful countryside and spending time at the beach, too! I recently saw Alexandra (Ally) Wheeler Gabriele, Lisa McCormick Mannix, and Emilie W. Sommerhoff. Also saw Courtney O. McGovern this past winter. So great to see them—it was like no time had passed at all. Also a shout out to Heather McConnel Goukler, Natalie Harvey Hefter, Tonya M. Elizabeth B. Anderson writes, “My husband, Matt Tocks, and I welcomed into the world a baby girl, Charlotte Malvina, who was born on Wednesday, August 18, 2010 in New York City.”

Eileen Flynn DeLaO writes, “We welcomed another daughter on February 1, 2011. Lisette Inez looks very much like big sister Clara but has her own delightful personality. I continue to explore religion through freelance articles and a biweekly column in the Austin American-Statesman and the course I teach (journalism and religion) at the University of Texas. Love to all my Farmington friends!”

94

Savile C. Lord writes, “It has been a wonderful spring with a huge move from my hometown of Washington, D.C., to southern Minnesota. I have had the distinct pleasure of spending more time with Qian Wang Smith, Eric Smith, and their girls, Helena and Gabrielle, who live in Minneapolis. Wishing everyone well.”

Christine A. Matava shares that she, Chrishaundra L. Lee, and Sarah Cichon attended the National Arts Club celebration of 100 years of Women’s Wear Daily. Chrishaundra is governor and head of fashion.

Amy Tambini Rothman shared the happy news that she had a baby boy, Bayler Upton Rothman, on December 20, 2010.

Werbe ’93, who attended Harvard Graduate School of Education and received her Ed.M in 2011. It doesn’t end there though! A Facebook post re-connected me with Jennifer (Jenn) Gorzaleny ’95, who also attended HGSE (in 2003) and received her master’s degree in the same concentration that I am in (School Leadership). Jenn is currently living in my hometown of Pittsburgh, Penn., and teaching at the Winchester-Thurston School. Serendipity struck again a couple weeks ago while I was chatting over lunch with Brooke McCaffrey, one of the kindergarten teachers at my internship site. Brooke is the younger sister of Molly McCaffrey Schlobohm ’94. She was there during the unforgettable rainstorm that marked our graduation so many years ago! Lastly, there’s at least one another Ancient here at HGSE; I met her VERY briefly in the library; she’s from the class of 1989. I didn’t catch her name, though. If you are reading this, please drop me a line at ookobi1@me.com so that we can have tea or something!”

The parents of Flora E. Mendoza shared, “After being selected for the very prestigious Coro Fellowship Program for 2010-2011, Flora worked for Humanity in Action in Amsterdam for six weeks this summer. Flora then enjoyed traveling to Brussels, Berlin, Prague and Vienna. Flora also plans to visit Serbia, Bosnia, and the Balklands, and end her travels in Rome, Italy. She makes New York City her home base.”

Rebecca E. Ross Russell writes, “Hey all! I’m just getting settled in London, where I’m studying international development at the London School of Economics. It’s a great city, but super expensive! I spent most of last year working in an orphanage in Tanzania, and have since started a small nonprofit to continue working with them. Check it out at www.themallthings.org. Life is good!”

Mei-Ling C. Wong writes, “I was just accepted to graduate school at UCSF’s School of Nursing for the fall of 2011. The Master’s program is for an acute care pediatric nurse practitioner. I will continue to work as a bedside nurse in the Pediatric ICU at UCSF while working on my degree. Hope everyone is well!”

According to a press release from the Rhode Island School of Design, Nathalie Jolivert was selected by Gensler, a leading global design and architectural firm, as the winner of its third annual Diversity Scholarship, which recognizes emerging talent in African-American college students who are enrolled in an architecture program. The award includes an academic scholarship and a full-time internship with Gensler.

08

Emily G. Cummings writes, “Greetings! I have finished my first year of engineering school at Dartmouth and am heading back to HWS for my senior year. I will be graduating with my class of 2012 and then one more year at Dartmouth. This summer I return to Geneva and begin my second summer of research on the Finger Lakes, doing water collection and analysis with my advisor. Time is sure flying by!”

The parents of Brittany E. Johnson shared, “Brittany competed at the Nationals for the Intercollegiate Horse Show Association in Lexington, Ky. The IHSA has over 8,300 riders from over 370 colleges and universities. Brittany competed in three different classes and placed 5th in the Individual Open Fences and 4th in Individual Open Flat. Brittany also competed in the Cacchione Cup and finished 10th. The top 36 riders from across the country qualify for this cup by winning their region with the most points during the year.”

According to a Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute’s Athletics press release,

Muryum K. E. Khalid was honored for academic excellence on the Intercollegiate Women’s Lacrosse Coaches Association’s 2011 Division III Academic Honor Roll.

Diva M. Malinowski writes, “I’m entering my final year at North Dakota State University and am super excited for it! I’ll be graduating next spring with a major in zoology and a double minor in psychology and chemistry. This summer I have been busy, filling my time as an admissions assistant, giving tours for prospective students (brings me back to my MPS days as the Co-Head of Tour Guides) as well as submitting veterinary school applications. I also began a new job as a complex manager, where I manage an NDSU apartment complex of 70 apartments and about 300 tenants. It has been a lot of fun so far and I’m looking forward to the rest of the year. Also, I’m not sure if anyone there heard, but I was recently featured in the Wall Street Journal in an article on how NDSU’s campus appeals to out-of-state students. MPS was mentioned more than once. On another note, my brother and sister-in-law are expecting a baby girl and I can’t wait for her to become a Daisy! I hope all is well and I look forward to returning soon to see the changes made on campus since I’ve left—Farmington will always be my home!” (Editor’s note: For Diva’s full class note, visit www.porters.org.)

09

Alexandra E. L. Lazowski writes, “I am currently a sophomore at Johns Hopkins University, majoring in East Asian studies. I am also involved with the Hopkins debate and investment teams. I spent this past summer working for an international finance consulting company in Beijing, China.”

According to the school’s website, Hannah P. Mirza led last year’s University of California—Davis lacrosse team with a school-record 58 draw controls.

 6 Jennifer L. Schoelwer writes, “Alyssa P. Kasanoff made time to visit me at my new home in D.C. this summer. We enjoyed all the regular monuments of our nation’s capital, but the highlight was taking in a private tour at George Washington’s Mount Vernon Estate.”

10

Thai C. D. Matthews was selected as the winner of the 2011 Hurston/Wright Award for College Writers, which honors excellence in fiction writing by students of African descent who are enrolled full time at United States colleges and universities. The award is given in recognition of the best previously unpublished short story or novel excerpt. Thai, a student at Wellesley College, was honored for her short story You Are Here.

 7 The parents of Michelle M. Regius write, “We are proud to share that Michelle has done an internship at International Needs Australia this summer. International Needs is a Christian overseas aid and development agency located in Melbourne, Australia. Michelle’s internship involved designing a youth advocacy program so that students in high school and youth groups can learn about and spread awareness of the poor and underprivileged in developing countries.”

ACADEMIC ARRANGEMENTS

Sailing the Celtic Isles

A Family Program

Edinburgh to Dublin Aboard Clipper Odyssey
JULY 28 TO AUGUST 8, 2012

Discover castles and ancient standing stones, gardens and estates on a summer cruise through the Celtic isles in the company of fellow alumnae.

Embark Clipper Odyssey in the Georgian city of Edinburgh and travel to Inverness to see the battlefield of Culloden and Cawdor Castle. Explore prehistoric sites on the Orkney Islands then see rare flora as well and purple heather in full bloom at Inverewe Gardens. Continue to the Hebrides for a private visit to a shooting lodge and a wee dram at a single-malt distillery.

Explore the city of Belfast and be welcomed into two country estates by their owners. Conclude in Dublin with a private visit to a famous garden and time to enjoy this lively city.

Experience the cities of Edinburgh and Dublin more fully on trip extensions. See parts of Edinburgh Castle not open to the public on an Edinburgh prelude and take a curatorial tour of the National Gallery on a Dublin postlude.

Please join us for what promises to be a journey to remember, and bring your children and grandchildren. Students ages seven to 17 receive special rates. To reserve, please email caitlin@academicarrangements.com or call 212-514-8921.

Making Our Dreams Our Reality

BY BARBARA HIGGINS EPIFANIO '79
President of Miss Porter's School Board of Trustees

As board president, my goal is to work with trustees and members of the Alumnae Board to cultivate a culture of philanthropy that extends to the larger Miss Porter's School community. Full, active engagement in the school today and participation in the school's fundraising initiatives are essential to our future and elemental to our institution.

Miss Porter's School is in the enviable position of possessing a robust endowment. Certainly, we know that few of our peer schools can make the same claim, but we must be equally clear in asserting that this hallmark affords our ability to provide all the best features of the exemplary education we offer.

Our entire community should, and must, take great pride and celebrate with joy in the work we have achieved for it is what makes us who we are. We should be inspired by the triumphant completion of The Campaign for Miss Porter's School for we not only met, but surpassed, our goal. This accomplishment proves what we know to be true: when Farmington sets its sights, there is no obstacle we cannot overcome.

Equally as truthful is the reminder that our great success is not an opportunity to rest upon our laurels. We must remain committed to our focus, mission, and best practices. Building upon our school's strong culture of philanthropy will be crucial and preeminent as we look to the future. It must not be forgotten. It must not be left unattended.

Whether a board member, Ancient, or parent, we each possess the ability to galvanize the greatest gifts from each other. How will we do this? Dedication, determination, proclamation, and most of all, participation. We must each lead by example. Commitment to philanthropic giving to Miss Porter's School requires a heartfelt desire, the motivation to set the necessary resources aside to make a gift, the ability to inform other community members of your philanthropic priority and encourage theirs, and the consistency to repeat these steps annually.

Just as it was in Sarah Porter's time, there are needs to fulfill and hopes for our future. Every member of our community can play a role in making those dreams a reality for the current and future students of Miss Porter's School, and I hope you will join me for the next steps of our amazing journey.
