Quick Setup Guide

②

- 2. Press and hold the power button of the Blink500 Pro HM for 3 seconds to turn on the handheld adapter.

③

- 3. The transmitter will be charged automatically when it is attached in place.
Note: the Blink500 Pro TX transmitter is not included.

How to Pair?

It is unnecessary to pair the Blink 500 Pro in the HM if the TX and RX are already paired.

1. Hold open the belt clip of the transmitter and slide onto the belt clip slot of the handheld adapter.
2. Hold down the power button of the Blink500 Pro HM for 3 seconds to turn on the handheld adapter.
3. Hold down the power buttons of the Blink500 Pro TX and RX to turn on the transmitter and receiver. Then put the receiver back in the charging case.
4. While the TX & RX are both on and with the receiver in the charging case and the transmitter is inserted into the handheld adapter, simultaneously press both the pairing button on the charging case and the pairing button on the handheld adapter.
5. The system is successfully paired when the pairing indicators of the RX's and the TX's OLED displays both display "4P".
6. You are ready to record.
