Time for a bed for “big kids”?

Children are constantly on the move, learning new things, experimenting and playing. That's why they need a safe place where they can rest and sleep while they process all the impressions from an active day. At this age they've probably outgrown their crib, and a bed for adults seems much too big. This is when a children's bed is perfect. Just the right size to feel both snug, cozy and safe.

Let your needs, space and taste help you choose

Think about the kind of bed that would suit you and your child best.

If your child usually moves around at sleep time, it could be wise to choose a smaller bed with a guardrail. If you want to be able to extend the bed as your child grows, an extendable bed is perfect. Do you have limited space? Then maybe a loft bed is the way to go, with room for a sofa or a desk underneath. If your child would rather sleep closer to the floor, we have day-beds with an extra bed for a friend or an extra storage space for toys. We also have bunk beds that you can add on to with an extra bed, so 3 people can sleep in the same space. In short, we have beds for all needs, spaces and tastes.

This is a reference guide created to better assist customers when purchasing products. While a high level of accuracy has been sought in its preparation, we cannot guarantee that there are no errors or omissions, nor will we be bound by them. Availability may vary by store. Mattresses

Like IKEA mattresses for adults, children's mattresses are well ventilated to allow the airflow needed to prevent moisture and mould build-up. Most of our outer mattress covers are washable.

IKEA children's mattresses come in different comfort choices. A mattress needs to be firm enough for the needs of growing bodies, but soft and comfortable on top. All our mattresses are made of safe, durable materials. Free from harmful chemicals and well-ventilated, they provide a healthy and comfortable sleeping environment for your child.

How to choose a mattress

1. Foam or spring?

We offer a variety of different mattresses. Deciding if you want a foam or a spring mattress for your child will help you to narrow down your choice considerably.

2. Your budget

We have mattresses to fit every budget — from basic mattresses to mattresses made with high quality materials. But you can be sure that every one of them is designed with your child's safety and healthy sleep as first priority. We never compromise on children's safety.

3. Identify individual needs

Size: Are you buying a mattress for an extendable bed or a junior bed? As the extendable bed "grows" with the child in three steps, the mattress comes in three pieces, one long and two short: Just add a part when you extend the bed.
Time: How many years do you think your child will use the mattress? If you want to use the same mattress from the early years well into childhood, a thicker and more durable mattress will provide better support as your child grows.

4. Choose your mattress

On the following pages you will find all of our children's mattresses available, along with detailed facts for each.

Air circulation: All children's mattresses promote good air flow, thanks to carefully considered choices in materials and construction.

Children's safety is always our highest priority.

Our products are designed and tested to comply with all applicable safety requirements in the countries where the products are sold. We also test all our children's products at our own accredited test laboratory in Sweden, as well as at independent accredited test laboratories and institutes around the world.

How are our children's beds tested?

All our children's beds undergo several different tests to ensure they are safe to use. First, they are inspected for any protruding parts, loose parts or fittings, and sharp edges. Then, all gaps and openings are measured to ensure safety. The bed is tested with impact and pressure tests for strength, stability and durability and to ensure that the spindles will not twist or rotate from their position and create potentially hazardous openings. The bed base is also tested. For example, in a test for the European market, we subject the bed base to impact from a 10 kg weight that is dropped 1,000 times from five different positions.

The same or similar tests are made on bed bases for beds in all markets where we are active, but the tests may differ somewhat, depending on the specific requirements of the respective country.

Extendable beds

Suitable for children ages 3+

A bed that grows. The length is adjustable as the child grows taller. At IKEA, we say these beds “grow with the child”, i.e., the width remains the same, but the length can be adjusted. For a young child, a small, cozy bed is comforting after graduating from the crib. And since an extendable bed is like having three sizes in one, it is a good environmental choice as well.

BUSUNGE extendable bed 107×198 cm (42½×78"). The bed can be extended, so it can be pulled out as your child grows. Solid wood slats which offer firm posture support are included.

Loft and bunk beds

Suitable for children for ages 6+

Bunk beds have sleeping for two — an upper bunk and a lower bunk. Loft beds provide sleeping for one, with space underneath for storage, play or study. Both are twin size beds. Only children over age 6 should sleep in the top bunk. The top bed has a solid guardrail at a good height for the safety of the top sleeper. Minimal gaps in the rail ensure that the child cannot fall out. But the guardrail loses its function if the mattress is too high up in the bed to make the guardrail protective. So use a mattress that is the right thickness for a loft bed or top bunk.

Loft beds

Bunk bed safety

Bunk beds are safe and fun

Children enjoy the fun and coziness of a bunk bed. They also like moving around in bed after lights out. That's why we have strict construction requirements and test all our bunk beds carefully, to make sure that they're strong, durable and safe enough for your child.

Why a bunk bed?

The best thing about a bunk bed is that it takes up less floor space than two single beds. Most children also experience a greater sense of security when they get to share a bed with a sibling or friend, hear someone else's breathing or have a quiet talk before falling asleep.

What can you expect from our bunk beds?

The safety of your child is our top priority. That's why we fulfil all applicable safety requirements and testing standards. This is what you can expect from our bunk beds:

- Stable and durable construction made from non-harmful materials.
- That the space between the guard rails has been dimensioned to prevent a child from slipping through.
- Evenly placed ladder steps to make climbing up and down easier.
- Steady slatted bases with sturdy attachments that keep the mattresses in place and prevent the top bunk from coming loose.
