PCM-D50 Portable Linear PCM Recorder

The portable possibilities are plentiful.

The PCM-D50 has the same rugged construction and cool design as the popular PCM-D1 model, but with an easier-to-attain price point. With new features such as more flexible mic rotation, a pre-record buffer that records five seconds of audio before hitting the record button, digital pitch control, A/B segment/repeat and an optional remote control, this is the digital field recorder that offers more portable possibilities for songwriters, musicians and journalists.

- 96 kHz-24bit, virtually noise-free, recording quality
- Built-in, X-Y or Wide stereo configuration electret condenser microphones
- 4GB internal Flash Memory, free of drive mechanisms
- Memory Stick Pro-HGDuo™ slot for up to 4GB expandable memory

MKH 8000 SERIES

Sennheiser's sophisticated new MKH 8000 Series is designed to capture sound with an unprecedented warmth and transparency. The three high-end microphones—the MKH 8020, MKH 8040 and MKH 8050—feature extremely low inherent self-noise and an exceptionally wide frequency response. The very compact designs make them an ideal choice for fixed installations as well as stage and film applications.

The new 8000 series conveys a natural and subtle warmth. Voices sound rich and detailed; piano, strings and wind instruments have that special "character"; and percussive instruments benefit from a fast attack and a dynamic, powerful reproduction.
