USAGE INSTRUCTIONS

- Place ground coffee beans in the Brew Core. Fill to top of brew core mesh windows, 16 tbsp or 1/2 lb coffee. For best results, use fresh roasted, coarsely ground coffee.
- Insert core inside pitcher and slowly pour 2 cups of water over the ground coffee to dampen. Once coffee is damp, slowly fill the remainder of the pitcher with water to cover grounds or up to the top of the windows in the Brew Core. Be careful not to overfill pitcher with water. Once pitcher is full, stir grounds until fully saturated with water.

- Tighten lid and place in refrigerator to cold brew for 12-24 hours. For ultimate flavor extraction, stir grounds during brewing process.
- Remove Brew Core from pitcher. Easily screw off bottom to release used coffee grounds. Always remember to remove Brew Core before pouring coffee. Makes 54 oz. of cold brew coffee with core removed.
- To enjoy the best cold brew coffee, creamer (or cream substitute), sugar, water and ice can be added to taste. Cold brew coffee can be stored up to 14 days.

COLD BREW BENEFITS

Cold Brew brewing is extracting sweet flavored, low acidic coffee through brewing in cool water over longer period. Cold brew coffee is an average 65% less acidic and naturally sweeter than hot brewed coffee.

TIP

If grounds escape from the Brew Core due to accidental overflow, the Brew Core can be used to filter the coffee. After brewing is complete, pour coffee into a clean Brew Core to pass through the filter a second time; this will remove any excess grounds. Easily double filter

LID

Lid may be used with or without the Brew Core. Lid attaches with a twist to the right, and removes with a twist to the left. Lid will click into open position after one full turn.

BREW CORE

Core rests inside handle and locks into place by turning to the right. Be sure brew core is firmly seated. Turn to the left to unlock and remove.
