

Genetic counseling resources for your patients

Quest Diagnostics helps you connect your patients with genetic counselors. Genetic counselors can provide comprehensive genetic services to patients, such as pre-test and post-test genetic counseling.

Visit FindAGeneticCounselor.com for a directory created by the National Society of Genetic Counselors that lists genetic counselors available in person and/or by phone.

Below are examples of companies that provide genetic counseling services by phone and/or videoconference.

^b Not all insurances may be accepted by all companies. It is recommended that patients check with their health insurance provider first to verify coverage and then obtain any preapprovals or preauthorizations needed by their insurance for these services, including genetic counseling and testing.

For a list of additional companies, visit FindAGeneticCounselor.com.

If you, as a provider, have questions about which test is most appropriate for your patient or how to interpret your patient's test results, our Genomic Science Specialists and Genomic Science Liaisons are here to help. We are available Monday-Friday from 8:30 AM to 8:00 PM EST by calling 1.866.GENE.INFO (1.866.436.3463).
