TROUBLESHOOTING

Power cord caught in brushroll or floor nozzle.

- Inspect power cord and plug for any damage before use. DO NOT use vacuum cleaner with a damaged cord or plug. Turn off all controls before plugging in or unplugging the vacuum cleaner. Store your vacuum cleaner with the power cord secured around the two cord hooks.

Vacuum is not picking up debris. No suction or light suction.
See Maintenance section for more information.

- Empty the dust cup. Check filters to see if they need cleaning. Follow instructions for rinsing and completely air-drying the filters before reinstalling them.
- Clear any blockages in the nozzle, wand, handheld vacuum, or accessories. See Checking for Blockages section for more information.
- If any string, hair or carpet fibers remain wrapped around the brushroll after continued use, carefully clear them away.
- Remove any blockages from the debris intake in the floor nozzle. Tilt the tube on the bottom of the nozzle to open the cover, and lift out the intake tube. Clear blockages, then push the tube down and press the nozzle cover closed.

Due to the strong suction power of the vacuum, it is normal for it to warm around the filter exhaust to become warm during and after use. Turn off the vacuum and wait 10 minutes for it to cool down. If it still feels warm, clean the pre-motor and post-motor filters. See Maintenance section for filter cleaning instructions.
