

Medical Justification Guide

- The QuickTalker Freestyle (QTF) is Durable Medical Equipment (DME). You as the SLP need to prove to the insurance company why the QTF is a medical necessity for your client.
- Consider types of information that your client would not be able to access and communicate without the use of the QTF:
 - Daily Communication Needs: school, home, work, etc.
 - Demographic Information: name, birthday, address, etc.
 - Health Information: bathroom needs, expressing injury, etc.
 - Safety Information: emergency contact, reporting concern, etc.
 - Medical Needs: allergies, medications, etc.
 - Participating in ADL's: cooking, working, etc.

Give it all you got!

- Insurance needs to know WHY your client requires the QTF, as other, less costly, methods of communication do not meet their functional communication needs.
- Be sure to provide medical justification for your recommendation for the QTF within your evaluation report!

Have questions?

Contact our ableEXPERIENCE Support Team for questions about data collection:

Email: fundingservices@ablenet.com
Phone: 651-401-1269

Contact our Speech Evaluation Analysts for questions about providing medical justification within your evaluation:

Phone: (651) 362-2850
Email: fundingservices@ablenetinc.com