SAFETY INFORMATION

For safety and maintenance, please adhere to the following guidelines:

- Avoid direct exposure to the eyes as the flashlight emits a bright beam that can cause eye damage. It is not designed for use by children without adult supervision due to the risk of injury and battery acid leakage.
- In case of battery leakage, immediately clean any affected surfaces and clothing. Contact medical professionals if you experience chemical burns or persistent irritation. Dispose of the batteries responsibly in accordance with local, state, or federal regulations.
- Ensure batteries are inserted according to the indicated polarity and do not mix different types of batteries (alkaline, carbon-zinc, nickel-cadmium) in the device.

- Remove exhausted batteries promptly and always take out batteries before storing the flashlight for a long period. Do not attempt to recharge non-rechargeable batteries.
- The flashlight contains small batteries which pose an ingestion hazard. Keep the device out of reach of young children and seek immediate medical attention if batteries are swallowed.
