WARNING: KEEP BUTTON BATTERIES OUT OF REACH OF CHILDREN

- If swallowed a lithium button battery may lead to serious or fatal injury in as little as 2 hours, due to chemical burns and potential perforation of the esophagus.
- Non-lithium button batteries battery can cause serious injuries if it is swallowed or placed inside any part of the body.
- All button batteries must be kept away from children regardless if they are new or used.
- If you suspect your child has swallowed or inserted a button battery immediately call the 24-hour Poisons Information Centre on 13 11 26 (Australia) or 0800 764 766 (New Zealand) for fast, expert advice.
- If your child is having difficulty breathing contact 000 (Australia) or 111 (New Zealand).
- Dispose of used button batteries immediately and safely out of the reach of children. A battery can still be dangerous even when it can no longer operate the device.
- As soon as you have finished using a button battery, put sticky tape around both sides of it.
- This will make it harder for children to swallow the button battery and avoid the risk of the battery catching fire.
- Immediately dispose of button batteries immediately out of reach of children, or recycle using a child-resistant container and take used cells to your local battery collection center.
